BEGINS ANOTHER ERA OF GREAT IMPROVEMENT

HOT LAKE SEVEN YEARS AGO AND HOT LAKE TODAY SHOWS TRANSFORMATION.

Sick From Middle West and East are to be Seen in the Institution's Lobby.

Beginning with improvement of the promenade at Hot Lake Sanatorium doubtless a campaign of re-arrangement and addition has been started that will reach far into next season and enlarge that great institution sufficiently to care for the constantly increasing business.

When it is considered what was at Hot Lake seven years ago and what is there today one can but wonder at the marvelous transformation. Seven years ago the sanatorium building would only accommodate in a manner fifty patients. There was but one nurse who also acted in capacity of housekeeper. The water for domestic purposes was hauled in barrels on a sled. Grocery and supplies were delivered to the sanatorium in a spring wagon that proved adequate for the demands of transportation. A total number of twelve employes constituted the force at the Lake. Laundry was shipped out to La Grande. There was no telephone connection with the outside world. The bath house would only take care of ten to twelve patients, while the doctor's office and treatment room was one and the same. No steward, no bookkeeper, no checking clerks, no bell boys, in fact one man—the clerk—did it all. A 15-horse gasoline engine furnished electric current for the institution, and in fact Hot Lake was only a small speck either on the map or in the minds of the people.

But what is that institution today? None its equal in the northwest and very few in the United States. Today the building accommodates 250 patients with the most modern apartments possible for the skilled architects to build. Twenty-two nurses are regularly employed. Water for domestic purposes is brought to the institution in a private water plant which consists of a cement reservoir of 130,000 gallons capacity. It is distributed over the large building through mains perfectly plumbed and scientifically arranged. The electric current used from the main power line amounts to 125 horse power each 24 hours. It is interesting to know what an important part the electricity performs there. Besides being used for lighting and for running the elevators, it does the cooking in the diet kitchen, runs the machine shop and wood working department where all institution furniture is manufactured, runs the laundry where each week 20,000 pieces of linen are laundered, sweeps the floors and rugs, peels the potatoes, grinds the coffee, washes the dishes and is extensively used in the electric massage department of the bath house.

Where seven years ago the spring wagon carried the groceries from La Grande to Hot Lake now a commissary is established in the institution that carries a stock of $20,000. The sanatorium is one of the largest carload shippers on the O. R. & N. outside of Portland and at the present time a carload of canned goods is being unloaded there.

The office force which formerly consisted of the one clerk, now includes the day and night clerks, bell boys, bookkeepers, stenographers, checking clerks, and information man who is always at the service of the guests.

The doctor's office, formerly combined with the treatment room, now consists of a suite of nine rooms. Also there are laboratory, treatment and X-Ray rooms. The surgery room is porcelain lined, hermetically sealed and cannot be surpassed by any other institution. During the past year over 600 major operations have been performed at the Hot Lake sanatorium.

The merit of this place heretofore more or less confined to the northwest is now reaching into the middle and extreme eastern states, and where the register formerly showed people from nearby states now can be seen many of the prominent people of the east and middle west.
