Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN H. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is said that prosperity is a better test of character than adversity. At any rate, it is the one that has our preference.

The reason Friday comes once a week is because we must have something to accredit our bad luck to.

It always makes a woman cross to find her husband sympathetic with another woman's woes.

Would an old age pension induce a woman to own to sixty years before she was ninety?

Man has no vanity, but still he does like to show how nicely his hose match his tie.

What an antediluvian the man who used to do bicycle stunts at the county fair appears today!

Soon wood will be so expensive that we will not dare trust a tramp to saw it.

The man who has an old fashioned family to support dares not flirt with a better looking but somewhat uncertain job.

When a woman can't think of anything else to do she rips up her dress and sews it over again.

This season when you hear your neighbor communing with himself in Joe Cannon dialect you instinctively know that the stovepipe doesn't fit itself.

The Big Noise. When in the public places The noisy boys appear And holler with their faces, "We're here because we're here!" You catch the conversation And do not have to grope Concerning their location. They make it clear, we hope.

You couldn't get it plainer Although they had a band And went at it insaner To make you understand, And if you pay attention As idly passing by They will politely mention The only reason why.

Though sometimes you may wonder As they appear in view, Come in as soft as thunder If elsewhere wouldn't do, As voices hit the ceiling And jar the atmosphere You sort of have a feeling They're here because they're here.

The youthful spirits bubble Like water from a spring, And, while not hunting trouble, They'd joy on it to swing. Quite useless is protesting, They must let loose the noise That is their lungs congesting, For boys must still be boys.

Direct Descent. "Mother, isn't it just lovely? Uncle George says we have a family tree." "I am sure I never heard of it." "But it is so. He knows all about it."

"And what kind of a tree is it?" "An apple tree. We are descended from Adam and Eve, and he says that was their tree on account of that little trouble over the apple."

No One to Save Him. "The poor man!" "What do you mean?" "He was lost in thought." "Well?"

"And it was such a strange territory to his companions that none dared go in and rescue him."

Refreshing His Memory. "Where did I see you before?" asked the oily tongued stranger. "Maybe in New York," said the simple minded countryman. "Sure; that was the very place!" "I thought it might be because I never was there."

And He Did. "He said he would die for her." "How romantic!" "Naw. Foolish." "Why?" "Cause the dye he used fades out a funny yellow and makes his hair look like a calico mop."

Chance to Get W'ise. "Queer." "What is?" "That some folks don't know when they are well off." "Yes, considering that they have plenty of friends to point out the fact."

The Have to Be. "Some men are good talkers." "I've noticed another thing about men." "What is it?" "All married men are good listeners, or at least appear to be."

A Safeguard to Children. "Our two children of six and eight years have been since infancy subject to colds and croup. About three years ago I started to use Foley's Honey and Tar, and it has never failed to prevent and cure these troubles. It is the only medicine I can get the children without a row." The above from W. C. Ornstein, Green Bay, Wis., duplicates the experience of thousands of other users of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cures coughs, colds and croup and prevents bronchitis and pneumonia.
