Franklin Would Have Been Amazed

If his vision could have extended far enough into the haze of evolution to foresee the ultimate triumph of incandescent electric lighting—the GENERAL ELEC-TRIC MADZA LAMP.

The sage old philosopher flew his kite during a thunder storm, and by means of a key attracted and discovered electricity, but evolution decreed that modern inventive genius should discover an incandescent lamp that is revolutionizing artificial light.

THE GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP gives nearly three times the light of the ordinary carbon incandescent—and costs no more to operate. In addition to this it gives light of a vastly superior quality—a clear white light like the sun's rays.

Everywhere people are having their homes wired for electric light, since the invention of the GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA
LAMP. It has made electricity as cheap as it is convenient.
Come in for a moment today and let us prove to your entire satisfaction that there is no longer a possible excuse for you to be without the greatest of all household conveniences—electric light.

STORY OF THE PLAY.

"The Time, the Place and the Girl" Filled With Thrilling Moments.

L. R. Willard will present at the Steward next Wednesday a comedy with music entitled "The Time, the Place and the Girl." During a run of vocal approval by the theatregoers 463 consecutive nights in Chicago this piece was received with such unequivalent approval that it not only ran this length of time but exceeded in point of attendance any play that has ever appeared there. The reasons for this unusual success are ascribed by the management to the fact that the authors struck a new idea in musical plays and developed it with unusual skill. It is a comedy with unique characters and unique situations as rigid as those used by the best-known writers of plays without music. It would be interesting if there was not a song in it. But with a pleasant accompaniment of attractive music, vivacious dances and pretty girls introduced legitimately, it has all the attractive features of both musical and legitimate comedies.

Briefly, the story is that of a pleasant, whole-souled young "gambler" square as a die and on the level with everybody but himself and with the descriptive name of "Happy Johnny Hicks." He and his pal, Tom Cunningham, son of a rich man, get into trouble through a fight which Cunningham has in a gambling house and are forced to flee to a sanitarium in the mountains to escape arrest. Here they both meet their fate.
—Hicks in the person of a pretty trained nurse and Cunningham in that of the charming daughter of a thrifty farmer. All of these characters, and many others almost as interesting, are quarantined in the sanitarium by the county health authorities and the complications ensuing are original and amusing to an extraordinary degree. The production is staged by New Weyburn, a master of his craft.

WOMEN DISCUSS THEIR VOTE.

Washington Women Not to Seek Office
Under Equal Suffrage Law.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 25 (Special) —"Women voters should remember that they are like the boys casting their first vote and are not capable of holding offices at the present time, and I would not think of voting for a woman for commissioner in case the commission form of government is adopted," said May Arkwright Hutton of Spokane, president of the Washington political Equality League in speaking of questions that have arisen since the right-to-vote franchise has been given to women of this state, adding: "Women must not abuse their privileges. Any right-minded woman will realize that she is in the class with a boy of 21 who is casting his first vote, and the first thing to do is to study conditions and gain information, which will take much time." When asked if she would favor a woman commissioner under any conditions, Mrs.
Hutton said: "Absolutely not at this time. I was for votes for American women. The questions in such an office would be new to the women. My idea was not that women should immediately seek political honors, but that they should support honorable, capable men for such positions."

MOON LAKE IMPROVED.

Wealthy Men of Spokane Plan Extensive Improvements to Sites.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 25—(Special)
—The Loon Lake Outing club, made up of men prominent in business circles of Spokane and the Inland Empire, composed of 150,000 square miles, has consummated a deal for the purchase of 76 acres of land for summer home sites, golf links, tennis courts and other features, on the shores of Loon lake, northeast of Spokane. An option has also been secured on an additional 15 acres, where the new organization contemplates the erection of a splendid club house. An expenditure of $20,000 is involved in the purchase of the 76 acres of ground and when the option on the remaining 15 acres is taken up an additional outlay of $20,000 will be entailed. Lots having a frontage of 75 feet on the lake and a depth of 125 feet are to be deeded to shareholders in the company. About 40 acres of the land will be reserved for future development as a big field for summer sports of all kinds.
Spring water is to be piped under pressure to each of the building lots.

Why?
"Can you sing?"

"Yes."
"But you never do."

"No."
"Why not?"
"If I were to do so all the other singers would be silenced."
