Franklin Would Have Been Amazed

if his vision could have extended far enough into the haze of evolution to foresee the ultimate triumph of incandescent electric lighting—the GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP.

The sage old philosopher flew his kite during a thunder storm, and by means of a key attracted and discovered electricity, but evolution decreed that modern inventive genius should discover an incandescent lamp that is revolutionizing artificial light.

THE GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP gives nearly three times the light of the ordinary carbon incandescent—and costs no more to operate. In addition to this it gives light of a vastly superior quality—a clear white light like the sun's rays.

Everywhere people are having their houses wired for electric light, since the invention of the GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP. It has made electricity as cheap as it is convenient. Come in for a moment today and let us prove to your entire satisfaction that there is no longer a possible excuse for you to be without the greatest of all household conveniences—electric light.

At the Orpheum.
Patrons of vaudeville were not disappointed last night at the performances at the Orpheum. May Emerald in her contortion novelty act continues to draw applause by her clever work. Some of her clever stunts with the hoops is truly marvelous for a woman of her size. The Juggling Parrots deserves their name, for they juggle most everything from a peanut to a raincoat. They combine comedy with their feats of skill that keeps the audience laughing most of the time. Sam Dalton, the eccentric local comedian proved a disappointment to many from the press comments of his work. Miss Lillian Travelle, the light ballad vocalist came in for her share of applause. Her voice is well modulated and her expression of her different songs is well worth seeing.

At the Isis.

The change of reels at the Isis picture show last night was up to the usual standard of good pictures. The Mystery of Lonely Gulch is a western picture showing with a California setting and the drama enacted is well taken. His Mother's Thanksgiving is another society picture with a heart throbbing running through the magnificent surroundings. The Cheat, is a French scene of Parisian society and shows to what lengths a rejected woman will go to get revenge. The popular song, the Night Brings Stars to You, is well worth going to hear.

Scene from "Nancy" at Steward's Opera House, September 14.

"Nancy," a Drama.

The management of the Steward wishes to inform his patrons that the original No. One company headed by Grace Cameron will be the one that will appear here and not the No. 2 or secondary company. It is seldom that our playgoers get an opportunity to witness such a sterling attraction as Grace Cameron in Herbert Kerr's 4 act comedy "Nancy" which appears at the Steward on December 14.

The manager is congratulated in securing this sort of attraction for La Grande and there is no doubt that our public will give their utmost support to keep these first class attractions coming. Nothing succeeds like success and the success of the great play "Nancy" has been in a way most marvelous.

Packed houses have greeted this offering all along the line and the owners have sent three companies playing this piece to supply the demand for it. The original number 1 company is headed by Grace Cameron, the dainty star who was formerly prima donna or star with Little Dollie Dimples, Piff Puff Puff, the Bostonians, Savage Grand Opera Company, The Tenderfoot, When Johnny Comes Marching Home, Foxy Quiller and many other high class attractions. The other members of the company supporting Miss Cameron are well known actors of unquestioned ability.

A SULTAN IN AMERICA.

Haji Mohammed and Some Amusing Incidents of His Tour.

The most talked of foreigner visiting these shores at present is Haji Mohammed Jamabul Kiram II., the sultan of Sulu, who, with a party of Moros, is now touring America for some modern ideas to introduce into his country. Haji Mohammed started out from his realm in the Philippines to sell several bushels of choice pearls. Some of them he intended to dispose of them he intended to dispose of in this country. But learning of our rigorous customs law in regard to

REGENT PLUM MAY FALL HERE

INDICATIONS ARE THAT E. E. BRAGG WILL BE APPOINTED.

Mrs. Oliver, Appointive Office Holder, Also in Line for Old Position.

E. E. Bragg, who held office by appointment from George Chamberlain as a member of the Normal school regent board, is considered in line for the office again. The board has considerable money to distribute now that the Monmouth Normal has been resurrected. Mr. Bragg's term has expired and it is probable his reappointment will be made soon.

Mrs. Turner Oliver of this city holds the distinction of being one of the few state appointive office holders in Oregon, and according to the political index she will be reappointed when her term expires in May, 1911. Mrs. Oliver is a member of the state board of inspectors of child labor, having been appointed some time ago. As her husband and Governor-Elect West are close friends and political colleagues it is presumed she will be renamed as inspector.

Jewels—inspect the schedules in that respect of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law—he decided to get rid of all of them in Singapore, Paris and London. Thirty thousand dollars received for one pearl shows that he did passably well.

His highness received a noisy welcome on his sightseeing tour in New York, in which the rising generation took no small part. On one occasion a band of street urchins ran after his carriage shouting: "Welkim to our fair city. Hey, suit, old top, how do you like de great whitewashed way?"

"Suit" liked it very much. He speaks nothing but Suluese, but this sifted into English is what he said when his guides were done with him: "I've seen London, and I've seen Paris, but I never knew they carried a village of the map like this one."

In Washington the sultan was warmly welcomed by army men who have visited his island and was shown about by Colonel Hugh Scott. It was something of a task, however, for his highness has no use for elevators, which he calls the "shoots." In many of the tall buildings visited the sultan insisted on climbing the stairs, his escort and suit being obliged, out of courtesy, to follow.

No Change of Program.

"What tune was that you were playing?"

"Why, that was 'The Sweet By and By.' Don't you remember that old familiar air?"

"Yes. I know that was what you called it when you played it yesterday, but I didn't know but what you were calling it something else today for a change."

Wanted Help.

"I have always had an ambition to turn a hand organ on the street," said the sprightly young woman.

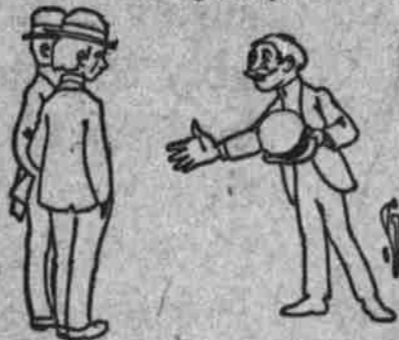

"How odd!" observed the cane devouring dude.

"It is a fact, though, and I have always wanted you to go along as monkey."

Longing.

I'd like to own a country place
And while my life away
Far from the madding human race
And watch the chickens lay.
I'd wander in that calm retreat
And never fret nor fear.
Besides, I wouldn't have to eat
The eggs of yesterday.

Getting Ready.

"Brown seems to be very straightforward and polite."

"Yes; I think he will soon spring it."

"What?"

"His candidacy for office."

Kind Man.

"He likes to have her enjoy herself."

"He does?"

"Yes and the farther away from him it takes her the better he likes it."

Good Idea.

"She always shows a good opinion of herself."

"She probably feels that she needs her own endorsement."

Mrs. D. Glickerson, 326 Ingles, Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house as I know it is a sure cure for coughs and colds." Hills Drug Store.
