his vision could have extended far enough into the haze of volution to foresee the ultimate triumph of incandescent electric lighting—the GENERAL ELEC-TRIC MADZA LAMP.

The sage old philosopher flew his kite during a thunder storm, and by means of a key attracted and discovered electricity, but evolution decreed that modern inventive genius should discover an incandescent lamp that is revolutionizing artificial light.

THE GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP gives nearly three times the light of the ordinary carbon incandescent—and costs no more to operate. In addition to this it gives light of a vastly superior quality—a clear white light like the sun's rays.

Everywhere people are having their houses wired for electric light, since the invention of the GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP. It has made electricity as cheap as it is convenient.

Come in for a moment today and let us prove to your entire satisfaction that there is no longer a possible excuse for you to be without the greatest of all household conveniences—elec-

LOCAL THEATERS

"Nancy's" Author Popular.

One of this season's great play successes is a play called "Nancy" which was written by C. H. Kerr, author of The Beauty Doctor, Little Dollie Dimples, Papa's Baby, Over The Fence, etc. This piece will be presented in this city for one night at the Steward, Dec. 14 and comes with a great company, headed by the peerless comedienne, Grace Cameron. The play is delightful and refreshing, full of heart interest and highly diverting comedy situations. The production comes here in its entirety the same as in all the Metropolitan cities. There has been some controversy amongst our theatre goers as to whether we were to have the original No. 1 (or big city) company in Nancy or a secondary company.

New Team at the Orpheum.

The change at the Orpheum last night was one of the best that has been presented at the Orpheum this season. The new team, Swor and Westbrook, in a singing and dancing act made good from the start with the audience. Their songs were original and the dancing was good, introducing new and intricate steps. Miss May Emeral, the clever contortionist put some extra touches to her pleasing act and it was even more popular than at the beginning of the week. Those funny jugglers, the Parrots were also before the footlights again and did their clever feats of skill that is ever pleasing. Their act is one that a person never tires of and is well worth going to see a second time.

Ordinance No. 496, Series 1910.

An Ordinance authorizing the Mayor and Recorder to enter into contract with B. W. Grandy, guaranteeing the construction of cement curb on the south side of Block 3, Grandy's Addition to La Grande, Oregon, in accordance with the terms of the contract entered into by and between the Warren Construction Company and the City of La Grande.

Whereas, B. W. Grandy, owner of the portion of the lots in Block 3 in Grandy's Addition to La Grande, on Adams avenue, which street has been improved by laying thereon bitu-lith pavement, objects to paying for the curb built in front of and along his said property, for the reason, that said curb, as claimed by him is defective and of no value, now therefore in order to settle the matter in controversy, and in consideration of the agreement and promise by said B. W.
Grandy, to pay the amount assessed against his said property for the price of said curb, and in consideration that said B. W. Grandy will make and sign an application against his said property, including said curb, now therefore,

The City of La Grande Does Or-dain as follows:

Section 1. That the Mayor and Recorder be, and they are hereby authorized to enter into a contract with B. W. Grandy to the effect that the City of La Grande, will guarantee the proper construction of the cement curbing on and along the property of said Grandy, in Block 3, Grandy's Addition to La Grande, so that the same shall be in accordance with the terms of the contract made and entered into by and between the Warren Construction Company and the City of La Grande, for paving Adams avenue between 4th street and 3rd street. That said work will be done as soon as the weather permits; and said contract with said Grandy shall contain a promise and agreement to pay his assessment for the improvement of his said property including the amount assessed for building said curb, and that said Grandy will make and sign an application to pay his said assessment and the whole thereof in ten equal annual instalments as provided by Ordinance.

Section 2. This Ordinance shall be published in one issue of the La Grande Evening Observer, and after its approval by the Mayor, shall be in force and take effect from and after the 9th day of January, 1911.

Passed the council on the 7th day of December, 1910, by eight members voting therefor.

Approved this 9th day of December 1910.

F. L. MEYERS,
Mayor.

Aristocratic Equines Mix In Society

THE day of the equine aristocrat is at hand, as fashionable seasons for horses and humans are the same largely. Thousands of millions are required to bedeck each for the upholding of prestige, and columns of newspaper space are necessary to call attention to the same.

Prospects indicate that this will be the gayest winter season the horse and society have spent together. The New York show will open the festivities Nov. 14 to 19 at Madison Square Garden, and to attract the largest and most classy entry list $40,000 will be distributed in prizes to the winners in 151 classes.

For the first time in the history of the National Horse Show association's exhibitions special trophies of a value of $500 each will be donated by the

JUDGING MATED PAIRS.

International horse show of London, which has the same objects. A pretty feature of the opening day of the New York show will be the filling of the balconies with thousands of the city's crippled and orphaned wards as the guests of the show directors. For the special entertainment of the children there will be a procession comprising the largest and smallest horses—the huge draft horses and the diminutive ponies.

One of the most spectacular of the events will be the classes for officers' chargers, open to all nations and all branches of the service. As all riders are required to appear in full military uniform and many nations are expected to be represented a brilliant blending of colors will be seen.

Queen Wilhelmina is taking a keen interest in the horse show this year and is sending two of her best horses to the exhibit. These will be ridden by two noted horsemen of Holland.

For the first time the militia officers have received attention, and they will compete in a special class in full dress.

A JUMPER AT THE SHOW.

equipped with saber and regulation bridle and saddle. The horses will be required to jump three high brush fences. Another additional class is known as the Canadian challenge cup and is open to officers and government horses. English, French and Belgian officers will meet the best in the United States army in these events.

The improvements of the last few years in the breeding of hunters lend additional interest to these classes, and the entry lists are larger than usual. Twenty-four classes have been set apart for hunters and jumpers, with a prize total of $7,380.

One contest that has always been of a spectacular nature is likely to be closed this year by the winning outright of the trophy. This is the Arrowhead Inn cup for road teams, the course extending from the inn on the Hudson's banks to the arena at Madison Square Garden. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Morris E. Hewlett, noted four-in-hand drivers, each have a leg on this trophy. Saddle horses ridden by amateurs only will again compete for the Holland House cup.

Several foreign champions have been entered in the heavy draft horse classes, and the success of last year is likely to be exceeded.

FLAG ETIQUETTE.

Displaying the National Ensign at Half Mast.

There have been many mistakes made about the etiquette of the flag.
When President William McKinley was assassinated thousands of loyal Americans raised flags at half mast over their places of business and let them fly by night and by day until they wore out. They undoubtedly thought they were showing respect to McKinley's memory. But they were not showing respect to the flag.

The United States government displayed at that time its flags at half mast from sunrise to sunset from the president's death until his burial. The government regulations provide that on the death of a president in office its flag shall be displayed at half mast only one day.

In memory of the 830,000 Union soldiers who lost their lives during the civil war May 30, Memorial day, each year the United States displays its flag at half mast at all army posts, stations and national cemeteries from sunrise to midday. Immediately before noon a dirge is played by the band or field music, and the national salute of twenty-one guns is fired. At the conclusion of this memorial tribute at noon the flag is hoisted to the top of the staff and remains there until sunset.
The idea is that the national ensign is too sacred an object to be long in mourning for any man or number of men, no matter how exalted their rank.

The flag reversed, with the union down, indicates distress. The flag on anything but a fort actually besieged should never be displayed between sunset and sunrise.

When the flag is to be displayed at half mast it is lowered to that position from the top of the staff. It is hoisted to the top before it is finally lowered.—Washington Post.

She Sent It Back.

There has always been a lot of give and take in American women's social adventures in England. But American women have spirit, and if they have taken a good deal they have given back still more.

An Englishwoman called on an American countess in Belgium.

"Oh, I thought you were out. That's why I called," the Englishwoman said in her sweet, clear, incoherent English voice.

"Well, do you know, I thought I was out, too," the American replied. "My stupid man must have mistaken you for some one else."

The Kickless Dog.

"I wonder why so many people insist on keeping dogs that are no good?"

"Well," replied the proprietor of the village hotel, "I always keep a few dogs because it's a comfort to see 'em take their meals regular without kickin, even if they don't pay any board."
—Washington Star.

A Great Secret.

Old Bachelor Uncle-Well, Charlie, what do you want now?

Charlie—Oh, I want to be rich.

"Rich! Why so?"

"Because I want to be potted. Ma says you are an old fool, but must be potted because you are rich. But it's a great secret, and I mustn't tell it."

Every time a man comes across a lot of old clothes in the house he searches the pockets, though he never finds anything.

"Come Across."

"Do these Englishmen understand American slang?"

"Some of them do. Why?"

"My daughter is to be married in London, and the duke has just cabled me to come across."

"Well?"

"Does he want me or my wad?"—
