EXTEND WORK IN EXPERIMENTS

O. A. C. HAS PLAN ON FOOT TO BENEFIT OREGON.

President Kerr and Government Authorities Working Together.

O. A. C., Corvallis, Ore., Dec. 13 (Special)—Practically every part of the state of Oregon will be benefited by the plan for the extension of experiment work in all phases of horticulture and agriculture which is now under consideration by President W. J. Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college and the authorities at Washington. The plan will be submitted to the regents of the college at a meeting which will be held within the next two weeks. In all probability the regents will approve the plan and it will then be ready for presentation to the legislature at its next meeting.

While at Washington Dr. Kerr presented his plans to the officials of the various departments and secured their cooperation. The Federal officials have agreed to give material financial support and have offered the services of their experts.

The plan includes extensive experiments in irrigation in the Willamette valley. The experiments will be carried on in cooperation with farmers and fruit growers at such points in the valley as will best test the varying conditions. This may necessitate work in as many as fifteen different communities in the valley. It will include investigations of methods of irrigation and testing of soils, drainage and adaptability of various kinds of farming and the time and methods of tillage.

Harney Valley, or some other locality in the central part of Oregon, will probably be the location for another experiment station. The two or three million acres of land which will be opened up by the building of railroads into this section and which are now almost entirely unproductive will be means of experimental work, be redeemed and made productive. This will be a station at which the problems of dry farming will be studied exclusively.

Some point in southern Oregon will also be selected as a site for an experiment station which will be a center for extensive operations throughout that section of the state. The officials at Washington have expressed themselves as favorable to the station at that point and are now at work on the plans. This station will take up not only the study of the various branches of horticulture but will also make extensive investigations along all agricultural lines. The station authorities will cooperate with the farmers and fruit growers in this section in the solution of whatever problems may present themselves.

Dr. Kerr believes that if these plans meet with the approval of the legislature and receive the support of the people of the state the agricultural products of the state will be increased many millions of dollars.

The experimental work which is to be carried on through these stations will be under the control of the College and will be conducted by experts of the College Experiment Station and the federal government. The great variety of soils, climate, elevation and other natural conditions make this state a rich field for experimental work. The fact that the state is being settled very extensively at this time by people who are not familiar with the conditions makes the experimental work of exceptional value to the state.

The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger from pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. E. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all dealers.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA

Scientists are now agreed that the eczema germs are lodged not in the outer skin or epidermis, but in the inner skin. Hence, a penetrating liquid is required, not an outward salve that clogs the pores.

We recommend to all eczema patients the standard prescription Oil of Wintergreen as compounded in liquid form known as D. D. D. Prescription. A trial bottle of this D. D. D. Prescription at only 25 cents will instantly relieve the itch. We have sold and recommended this remedy for years and know of wonderful cures from its use. We recommend it to our patrons.
