HOMESTEAD APPLICATIONS TO BE MADE ON LANDS.

Indian Reservations to Become Available for Homesteads Soon.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 4. (Special)—More than 1,000,000 acres of agricultural, grazing and timber lands will be available for homestead purposes when the Colville Indian reservation north of Spokane, is opened to settlement, according to Clair Hunt, allotting agent in charge of the apportionment of the reserve land.

"There are about 2,250 allotments to be made," Mr. Hunt said while in Spokane today. "And the Indians are choosing chiefly agricultural and grazing lands. This will take about 300,000 acres of a total of 1,400,000 contained in the reserve, leaving 1,100,000 acres that will be long to the people."

"Much of this will be first-class agricultural land and a large part of it will be covered with some of the finest timber in the state of Washington. A few of the Indians have shown a disposition to take land in the timber regions."

"The Colville Indians are good agriculturists and grow all kinds of grains, fruits and vegetables. Some of the finest peaches raised in the state of Washington are grown on reservation lands. The Indians are peaceable and friendly to the whites. They are industrious and thrifty, and only a few of the older men, who are incapacitated for work, require aid from the government."

Mr. Hunt added that while no date has been fixed for the opening of the reservation, it is likely this will follow soon after the completion of the allotment work. Much of the preliminary work of assigning lands has been completed, but so far few of the allotments have been made. However, the work is progressing and with the arrival of another agent and additional help it is expected to complete the assignment and allotment in short order.

Disfranchisement Continues. West Union, Ohio, Jan. 3.—Braving the blinding snow storm today, 65 farmers arrived in Judge Blair's court and pleaded guilty to indictments for selling their votes and were disfranchised for five years and fined nominally.

Roesch to Operate Brewery. Indications that the Pendleton brewery will open shortly in full swing are shown by the fact that Shultz and Stricker have given up their lease which did not expire till the middle of this month, says the Live Wire.

William Roesch will operate the brewery himself, it is said. His son is now away obtaining experience in malting and various phases of life indispensable to the successful brewer. It is freely predicted that as fine a brew as is made in the country will be produced in Pendleton, at least that is the opinion expressed by connoisseurs in the particular line referred to.

Saloons in Pendleton had one of the biggest days they ever had yesterday. All asserted they were suffering from short stocks their orders not having yet arrived.

It is presumed that as time goes on, bigger stocks will be laid in.

SNAKE ROAD IS DISCUSSED

REPORTS GOING ROUNDS OF A SPEEDY CONSTRUCTION.

Material Said to be Gathering for That Purpose at Both Ends.

According to reports of activity at both Huntington and Starbuck, where material is being assembled for the Huntington-Lewiston line of the O. R. & N. and that the work may start from both ends of the line early this year, says the Baker Herald.

It is reported that heavy machinery for grading and track laying has been assembled at Starbuck, Wash., recently and that more such material is being delivered there daily. Railroad men declare that there is no statement from an authoritative source indicating the district in which the material will be used, but that the general impression prevails that the work will be done in the Lewiston country.

According to reports being received here daily from Huntington, heavy steel is being unloaded daily at that point and more than 100 acres is covered with the material. The general view is held in that section that work is shortly to be resumed on the Huntington-Lewiston line and that the company intends pushing the line to completion at once.

The first lap of the Huntington cut off has been built from Huntington to Homestead, a distance of 60 miles. The fact that the Harriman interests are completing the details for the acquiring of extensive rights of way and terminals at Clarks Junction is another indication that the work is to be undertaken at an early date.
