Price Collier's articles, now appearing in Scribner's Magazine, are remarkable for their trenchant observation. They clear up much of the nonsense that has been written about English rule in India. In the February Scribner he gives an account of his visit for several weeks with the Governor of Bombay. He outlines the broad plan by which England governs India, and pays a high tribute to its efficiency.

PERSONALS

G. O. Barnhart, of Spokane, is registered at the Foley.

L. N. Church, a stock buyer of Walla Walla, is stopping at the Sommer.

J. E. Cherry, of Milton, was a business visitor in the city this morning, stopping at the Foley.

G. E. Townsend, of Pendleton, is at the Foley today while transacting business matters in the city.

F. C. Borden, a lumberman of Shoshone, Idaho, is in the city today inspecting the lumber mills. He is a heavy buyer on this market.

Doctor Verdo B. Gregory, of Walllowa, was at the Sommer yesterday while preparing to leave for Mexico where he has land interests.

Doctor W. H. Lytle, state veterinary, spent last night at the Foley and this morning departed for Wallowa, where he will take charge of the hydrophobia epidemic.

Gerald Fitzgerald, advance man for "Honeymoon Trail" coming to is stopping at the Foley while con-fering with Manager Steward.

H. S. Masee, formerly mnager of

"Silver Threads" Scores a Success.
(Boise Statesman.)

It has been some time since a play built along the lines of "Silver Threads" has been presented in Boise and it has been some time since anything of the kind has been so thoroughly appreciated. It was the bill at the Pinney for two nights and a matinee and it was genuinely pleasing. The cast is uniformly strong, which was a surprise. All too often an indifferent company is pulled along by the popularity of one of its members. It is not so with "Silver Threads." Although Richard

J. Jose is the stellar attraction, it is only because of his reputation for singing the folk songs in his enjoyable contra tenor. He does the singing, the others the acting; and he and they do it well. It is no careless use of language to say there is not a weak member of the cast.

Of the play itself it is only necessary to state that it has a strong "Old Homestead" tinge and is quite as pathetic and homely.

If any member of the cast might be selected as being especially fitted into the part, that member is Edith M. Cooke in the part of "Eliza B." She did a very clever piece of character acting.

"Silver Threads" at the Steward tomorrow night.

the Grande Ronde valley horse product that is claiming the attention of the entire northwest.

May Sell Wheat.

During the past few days the wheat market has been claiming local attention and according to the opinion of those who watch happenings in the valley there is reason to believe that several large wheat transactions will soon be made.
