HOBOS SWARM AT DEPOT

RAILROAD EMPLOYES UNABLE TO COPE WITH SITUATION.

Say Police Assistance Is Only Solution to the Problem This Winter.

"No one realizes the fact that hobos are making a general hangout of the men's waiting room at the depot and thereby making better sanitary conditions almost impossible," said an employe at the depot this morning. "We drive them out and they come in at the other door. We must have more police assistance if the place is to be kept clear of the rough element which drifts into a division point."

The statement was made in response to the popular appeal for a cleaner depot that has been going the rounds of drummers and the traveling public in general. Great throngs of tramps and hoboes infest the waiting rooms and at night it keeps the employes constantly busy herding them out. They are so persistent that the night employes have about given up hope of coping with the situation. The traveling public is forced to stand a stench such as a roomful of dirty foreigners and filthy tramps can permeate the air with. The situation needs attention for those who frequent the depot are outspoken in their dissatisfaction with conditions on the men's side of the waiting room.

WALLA WALLA PLEASSED

"The Climax" is a Play for the Masses That Like to be Entertained.

In all my thirty years' experience with shows I have not found a play that draws as much favorable comment as "The Climax," said H. A. Cory, business manager for that troupe, which plays here tonight at the Steward. It is a play with song, appealing to the better classes of theatre-goers and Mr. Cory promises La Grande a treat such as seldom comes this way. For the light and frivolous, go some where else, but an up-lifting entertaining and dintense-ly high class play, see "The Climax."

The following from the Walla Walla Union regards the play in question:

"The Climax" at the Keylor Grand last night is one of the cleverest dramas that has ever been presented in this theatre season. It is the only piece of real merit that has played to a small house this winter, the attendance last night being remarkably light. The story is a simple one, there being only four people in the cast, and there is no attempt to elaborate stage setting, the entire performance being given in the same room which represents the living apartments of the music master, his son and the young lady pupil, who is studying voice culture with the idea of becoming a great singer. The other character is the young doctor who has known and oved the girl from childhood. Miss O'Brien combines the rare qualities of possessing dramatic ability and an excellent voice, while Mr. Patton as the music master, Roy Merrill as the son, and Wesley Todd as the doctor are actors of splendid ability.
