SCENE FROM "THE MAN OF THE HOUR"

The most talked-of play by George Broadhurst, "The Man of the Hour" which has been playing at the Savoy Theatre, New York, for two years, will be the attraction at the Steward on March 1.

"The Man of the Hour" is a timely play, full of dramatic incidents, with plenty of comedy, and telling a story of human interest.

The Mayor's signature is all that is necessary to make the bill a fact, and the "achine" has elected to the office, after a hard fight, a rich young man, who they thought could be handled. He proves honest, however, and although all kinds of pressure is brought to bear, steadfastly refuses to make the proposed measure a law.

The love interest in "The Man of the Hour" is that of the young man for the niece of the financier who is responsible for the bill. She has told her lover that in order to win her hand he must prove worthy, but it is at the risk of jeopardizing her fortune and losing her well, that the young man keeps up the fight of his life against the "bosses."

"The Man of the Hour" is divided into four acts, and is given with an elaborate production as well as a cast of excellence, including: Mr. Harry English, Warren Conlan, Edward Keane, John Moore, John Morris, Clyde F. McCabe, Frank Kendricks, Franklin George, E. E. Folt, George Walters, Geo. A. Cameron, Frank Watson, Alfred Burns, Misses Emma Naylor, Virginia Irwin, Florence L. Mack.

WEST VETOES ALL GAME LAWS

CHURCH'S LAW AMONG THOSE TABOODED BY GOVERNOR.

Two of Oliver's Bills Signed by the Governor Yesterday.

Representative Church's bill regulating game laws in Union and Wallowa counties, was given the veto yesterday by Governor West because it came within the type of Eastern Oregon bills dealing with game. All such bills were defeated by the veto route. In addition to vetoing that bill the governor signed and made a law, two measures introduced by Senator Oliver, one of which is of especial importance in that it carries sufficient appropriations to maintain the Eastern Oregon experimental station.

The two bills now laws are: No. 143, Oliver—Providing funds for Eastern Oregon Agricultural Experimental Station.

No. 146, Oliver—Pertaining to deposition of witnesses in the state.

JACK O'BRIEN ARRESTED

FORMER LA GRANDE PEOPLE IN PORTLAND COURT.

Carrie Rynearson Causes Arrest of Baseball Player.

Jack O'Brien, a professional baseball player, formerly located at La Grande was arrested last night on a warrant sworn to by his divorced wife Carrie Rynearson, charging that he threatened to kill her, says the Portland Oregonian. The arrest was made at 271 Montgomery street, where both O'Brien and his ex-wife live.

O'Brien declares that there is nothing to the charge and that his arrest is prompted solely by spite. He says that he married the woman who last night caused his arrest in September, 1908, and that he was her third husband. In September, 1909, they were divorced, and a few months afterward O'Brien was again married to a La Grande, Oregon, woman.

O'Brien declares that the Rynearson woman has sought to have him take legal steps to have his marriage with the La Grande woman annulled on the ground that it was contracted too soon after his divorce from her, and also, that she broke up his home in Walla Walla by writing letters to his wife. O'Brien's bail was fixed at $500 and at a late hour last night it had not been furnished.
