SEATTLE PARTY SEEKS LAND

REPRESENTATIVE HERE TODAY INVESTIGATING CONDITIONS.

Will inspect situation thoroughly and Report to Clients.

Representing several Seattle parties who have become interested in Grande Ronde fruit land, J. H. Richardson of Seattle is here today looking over the fruit industry in this valley and if he finds things to his liking, he will recommend to his clients that purchases be made.

Mr. Richardson has not had time this afternoon to give the situation a thorough inspection and could not pass his opinion as yet. But he is in position to pass an expert opinion and local real estate men are showing him to various fruit centers.

PURE BRED CALF SHIPPED IN JERSEY SAID TO BE BEST SENT TO THIS VALLEY.

Blockland Brothers Are Purchasers of High Grade Yearling.

What authorities on the cattle question claim to be the finest Jersey bull ever shipped to Union county was received here this morning by Blockland Brothers of Island City who have a herd of about 50 Jerseys on the Island City ranch and a Hereford herd of 90 head. The purebred bull, a yearling in April comes from the Ladd state farm near Portland, sometimes known as the Hazel Fern farm, and the breeders are corroborators of the statement made that the animal is as fine a type of Jersey stock as has ever been bred on an Oregon farm.

This is but another step of the Blockland Brothers to improve their herd which at present is coming to be considered a topnotcher when compared with any Eastern Oregon stock farm. Hand in hand with the importation of the Jersey bull and other recent importations of purebred stock comes the announcement that they will build a 50-stall barn this spring. With good soil and feed, plenty of water and a skilled "knowhow" in stock raising the Blocklands have built up a fine stock ranch, conceded, as asserted, to be of superior value and perfect in detail.

They do not train with cattle alone for they own a stallion sired by McKinney, the world's champion early speed sire. They have a blue ribbon winning Belgian stallion, too. Hogs, the kind that thrive best in Grande Ronde valley, have been bred to a large extent by the firm.

"It is men like these that build up the stock business," said an ardent stock man today. "If every stock raiser would increase the present desire to raise nothing but the very pure bred stock the valley would soon attain a reputation for producing cattle with the same degree of success that its horses are bred and prepared for the market."
