NEWS TRUST AT HAINES

DETECTIVES CORRAL DEVELOPMENTS FOR OWN USE.

Corner Said to Have Been Formed on Latest News Relative to Fugitives.

That there has been formed at Haines a corner on the information about the murder of Harvey McCullough is the claim of detectives who have been working on the case recently, says the Baker Herald.

The cause of this holding up of details is due to the desire of certain persons who wish to secure the $5,000 reward is the contention of those who have been working on the case.

Some of the detectives have just returned from Haines and raised the complaint that it is almost impossible for an outsider to get information about the details of the crime because of the zealousness of those who have secured data and are guarding it from any outsider who might have an opportunity to ferret the case and thus get a chance at the rich reward that would follow.

"I spent some time in the vicinity of Haines and North Powder in the effort to find out the facts in the crime," said one detective when he had returned from the scene of the murder. "At first I wished to get only the casual facts so that I could have a basis on which to work. But when I got there I found a closed corporation on information that would put the old secrecy of the Standard Oil company to blush. Every act and movement of a stranger is watched as if her were a prisoner. Should I start to inquire of anyone in regard to the matter, some one of those who are known to wish to get the reward would break into the conversation and stop all opportunity of my getting information. They even went so far as to call away people from me when I would ask any question in regard to the mystery. These guards of the information treasury would follow me around town and called off every attempt toward information that was advanced. I am not the only one who has had this trouble but other detectives and seekers of facts who have gone there have had the same experience. Sheriff Rand has been always vigilant in helping justice but the fault is with those in Haines who are holding up information."

"This holding back of information so that only a few can have a chance at the solution and reward is impeding justice and should be stopped by those interested in seeing fair play."

Warning to Railroad Men.

Look out for sever and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroad work. Geo. E. Bell, 639 Third street, Fort Wayne, Ind., was many years a conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroad work left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and hips and my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my railroad friends." Hill's drug store.

HISTORY OF THE DUNBARS.

Male Quartet to Appear Saturday Night in the Auditorium.

The Dunbar company will deliver an evening's entertainment under the auspices of the Lyceum course in the auditorium of the high school next Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. This is the third number of the Lyceum course that has been brought to La Grande this year under the auspices of the La Grande high school and is the last great musical program of the season.

The Dunbars are past "promoting." Their history is their strongest endorsement. They have given nearly two thousand concerts on tours carrying them more than three hundred thousand miles, to every part of the union, Canada, Great Britain and the continent, and everywhere great audiences have been charmed with their programs. Three concerts were given aboard great steamships in mid-ocean. At least 44 weeks of each year is given to concerts, with no open nights; the other eight weeks being required for special rehearsals and coaching. In some of the large courses, they have appeared annually during their seven years of travel, and in many others, they have appeared again and again with uniform success, and now about 75 per cent of their engagements are returns. One hundred and twenty different chautauqua assemblies have heard them and approved, some returning them for the second, third and fourth consecutive year; they often drawing the largest cash receipts of any attraction. They sing part songs with all finesse of mature men and finished musicians that they are, and they produce comedy in song that is at once original and refreshing. Most of their music is in manuscript, not published, much of which is composed or arranged by members of the company. Their equipment is the finest money can buy, their present magnificent carillon of nearly 200 bells having been made under their personal supervision while abroad. They have perfected several improvements in bell construction and have placed hand bell ringing among the arts instead of a pleasing specialty. Seats are for sale at Silverthorne's drug store.
