AT THE ISIS.

Fine Scenes From French Revolution Shown at That Place.

Progressive and up to date and more progressive and even more up to date is the policy of the management of this theatre. A feature of the program advertised for tonight is the latest product of the firm of Pathe Freres. It depicts a stirring incident in the first French revolution during the reign of King Louis XVI. The terrible days of the "Commune" saw many such scenes as are herein depicted and "The Escape from the Tulleries" closes one of the most thrilling of these.

The frenzied mob sacking the palace of the Tulleries and searching for more aristocratic victims upon whom to wreak their vengeance and the methods adopted by those of the pursued to escape are vividly portrayed in this film and literally carry the spectator with them from start to finish of the picture. It is magnificently staged and acted by this celebrated company.

"Three Men and a Maid" is a clean and enjoyable comedy starring Miss Mabel Fulle in the chief role. This clever comedienne has just severed her connection with the Vitagraph company and has been secured by the Edison company. Her appearance in the pictures is always a very welcome one.

"The Little Circus Rider," a Selig production, is on the "big spectacular line" dealing with a fully equipped circus and a pretty story. Commencing tomorrow Sunday, the management has secured the services of Mr. George Birnie of La Grande, who will render the vocal solos every evening. His splendid baritone voice is well known in the city and the public will appreciate this opportunity to again hear him. Miss Nellie Garrick will continue singing at the theatre, but only at the matinees which are held daily. Mr. Birnie taking her place at the evening performance.

Other beneficial changes and new innovations at the Isis will shortly be announced.

It is the determination of the Isis to be second to none in catering to the people of La Grande and the people will see it.

Horses Please Spectators.

A large number of farmers and horsemen this afternoon viewed the exhibit of Nell horses. Depot and Adams. The Clydes were groomed for the show and pleased the audience.
