MAIL CLERK IN "HEAVEN" THEME STRONG ORDER OF NEW POEM

Washington, March 15.—(Special)—The present progress of organization undertaken by the American Federation of Labor for the unionization of the entire railway postal service will necessitate issuance of over 50 charters to the different chapters. The postoffice department, especially the postmaster general, does not look upon this movement of the railway clerks with favor.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, however, declares that he will take every postoffice clerk in the service under the protection of the labor federation and that it makes no difference what attitude the department will take. Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor says that more than 25 charters have already been issued and that as many more will soon be granted.

The federation makes no secret of the fact that it intends to give aid in every manner possible to the clerks. If necessary, and according to the opinion of the labor officials it may be they will call a strike. Such a strike, tying up the mails, would be one of the most disastrous ever known in this country, it is said.

SWAIN SUFFERS JOKE.

Engineers "Monkey" With Swain's Peanut Roaster.

Bert Swain will take examination in a few days for a license to run steam engines of any type. At present he is running the engine on O'Connell's peanut roaster. Yesterday while firing up some of the O-W boys not wishing to see steam engineers developed so quickly plugged the exhaust, but General Manager Butcher of the peanut line discovered the attempt to cause a wreck.

STRICKLAND GILLILAN PRODUCES ANOTHER FAVORITE.

Popular and Renowned Author Paints Heaven on Earth.

Strickland Gillilan's latest production is a three-stanza poem entitled "Heaven." The noted author and lecturer who is read extensively by a big following in La Grande and is rapidly coming to attain a high pinnacle on the ladder of literary fame in the United States, muses thusly in the very latest thing his pen has produced:

Heaven is a bed
With a light at the head,
And an uncut magazine,
Or a crust of bread
To the long-unfed
Whose hunger pangs are keen.

Heaven is a smile
From a soul worth while
And a hand-clasp full of trust;
'Tis a tender word
From a heart love-stirred
When your spirits trail in dust.

Heaven is to feed
Of your chiefest need,
Be your need or work or rest
And the God who knows
Why he barbed the rose—
He plans your Heavens best.
Strickland Gillilan.
