Arcade Friday and Saturday.

The Deluge. A Vitagraph, one of the strongest releases of the month. A Biblical drama performed 3317 years B. C. picture of the destruction of the world by flood. The scenes of the drowning of the multitude is one of the most realistic ever put on the screen. The ark floating serenely upon the waters; you actually see the waters and wonder whether it will ever subside. The entire picture is a marvelous rendition of one of the most dramatic stories in all history.

Pineapple Cannery in China, Pathe. Very instructive and very pretty.

Bolted Door, Kalem. Very strong dramatic story.

Betty's Apprenticeship, Pathe. A comedy. The fond mother gets Betty a job in a millinery store; then the trouble begins.

Mrs. Jones Couldn't Fool Husband.

She switched flour on him the last sack she bought. But you can gamble the next time she ordered Blue Stem, which adjusted matters and put the couple lying happily together once more. Don't matter who your grocer is; they all sell it. La Grande Milling company is on the sack.

CURIOUS DOMESTIC PETS.

Musical Insects and Waltzing Mice Popular in Japan.

Among the many curious domestic pets of the Japanese are their musical insects and waltzing mice.

Hung up in the verandas of Japanese houses may be seen small, exquisitely cut bamboo cages, from which in the hush of dawn and at the close of summer days proceed quaint little whistlings, tinklings and trills. Usually it is at evening that the Japanese sit at their ease to listen to the music of their imprisoned insects. One called the "suzu-mushi" gives out, it is said, a kind of trill so delicate and clear as to sound like an etherealized bird's song.

One species of Japanese mouse may be said to waltz through the greater part of the waking hours of its life, never tiring, though its feet wear out in the process. This peculiar little rodent is black and white and has pink eyes. Its chief peculiarity is that at a time when baby mice of other species are just beginning to move about this terpsichorean mouse is already able to waltz.

Put together, these Japanese dancing mice will waltz in couples, and at times more than two will join in a mad whirl. So rapid is the movement of the dancers that it is difficult to distinguish their heads from their tails.

The Japanese says that waltzing seems to be as essential to the happiness of this mouse as midair somersaults are to the tumbling pigeon. An upright peg forms a convenient pivot round which the mouse can whirl, but it is said that without any such guide they would not in several minutes cover an area larger than a dinner plate, and they easily spin under a tumbler.—New York Herald.

His Last Request.

As the doomed man was led to the scaffold the sheriff asked: "Have you any last request to make?"

"Yes," said the wretch. "I would like to have a pair of suspenders." So they assigned two hangmen to the job instead of one.—Baltimore Sun.

Just Like Henry.

"But why do you cry so, Frau Maier?"

"The sight of Vesuvius reminds me so of my poor dear Henry. He, too, was always smoking."—Fliegende Blätter.

We must laugh before we are happy or else we may die before we ever laugh at all.—La Bruyere.
