Pierce Sending Out Stock for Summer Feeding.

Walter Pierce was in the city yesterday getting supplies for the various ranches. Mr. Pierce said his men were very busy rounding up and branding cattle so they can be put on the range. Stock stood the winter unusually well and go on the range in good spring condition and with the general good range in the Blue mountains this should prove a very profitable year for the stockmen of Union and Wallowa counties. No reports are in yet from the lambing camp but a big per cent is expected.

As witness, the popular picture house, the "Isis," drew a full house at each turn of the wheel, and the patrons came away with many expressions to the effect that it was the best evening's entertainment offered to La Grande in many moons. The music was all that was promised by the musical director, Mr. Chas. E. King. His arrangement of "Gems of Irish Melody" were highly appreciated by the full houses.

The popular "Isis" vocalists, Miss Nellie Garrick and Mrs. George Birnie gained rounds of applause by their tuneful rendition of "Killarney" and "Father O'Flynn" and those who were present are alike talking of the magnificent Biograph production, "His Trust" and the sequel in two separate reels. This is a monster reproduction, employing in its makeup, regiments of infantry, cavalry and artillery. The sequel to the first part of the story is beautifully conceived and acted.

The finale of the program is the much advertised Pathe comedy picture, "Who Killed Max?" Be it known that Max was not dead, although laid out and "waked", by his sorrowing relatives. See it all and enjoy a good
