MOBILE LAW IS ENDORSED

VACCINES DENOUNCE OPPOSITION TO SUPERVISION.

Selfishness the Motive for Attacks on State Supervision Bill.

Chicago, March 28. — (Special) — State regulation of fraternal insurance as proposed in the "Mobile bill" of the insurance commissioners, now pending in Illinois and in a score of other states, and recently enacted by five legislatures, has brought out the skeleton from the fraternal insurance closet. Deception and misrepresentation are charged to a small but energetic faction of ostensible fraternalists which is opposing the bill notwithstanding that the two big federations of fraternal societies have endorsed and are supporting it.

Resolutions have been adopted by convention of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World, the largest of the fraternal societies for women, that some societies are not in fact "fraternals" although they claim to be. This society has consistently urged the need of adequate rates to insure sound insurance.

The effect anticipated by these so-called fraternal orders of state supervision and publicity of accounts is pointed to as an evidence of the selfish motives which prompt the opposition.

After various "whereas's" the convention declared: "This misrepresentation, misstatement and opposition proceeding from societies working under the guise of fraternal beneficiary societies but which are not true fraternal societies, is dangerous and inimical to the stability and future soundness of the great insurance system as a whole and to the millions of persons dependent thereon." It is added by way of good measure, that "deception being practiced by these pretended fraternalists as to the effect and nature of the measure recommended by the national convention of insurance commissioners and endorsed by the fraternal federations is 'contrary to the interest of the individual members.' The societies 'which for immediate profit and self-interest' have misrepresented the measure were denounced as 'not worthy of the confidence bestowed by the public upon fraternal beneficiary societies.'"

"Such opposing societies cannot be either fraternal or beneficial in their nature," the resolutions declare, "in that they seek for selfish and unworthy reasons to prevent the general good of their members."

Reference was made to "scandalous mergers and misuse of funds," which the proposed law will prevent, the allusion being to recent exposures of the purchase and sale of small societies at profit to the managers. The pending measure was endorsed by this women's organization, which has a membership of 159,000 and the largest reserves in proportion to insurance issued of any fraternal organization established in the United States.

It was an actuarial investigation by the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World which a few years ago reversed the attitude of life insurance companies regarding women. The investigations showed that women were better rather than poor risks than men. As a result women are generally accepted for insurance.

Very Simple.

A rather simple looking lad halted before a blacksmith's shop on his way home from school and eyed the doings of the proprietor with much interest.

The brawny smith, dissatisfied with the boy's curiosity, held a piece of red-hot iron suddenly under the youngster's nose, hoping to make him bent a hasty retreat.

"If you'll give me half a dollar I'll lick it," said the lad.

The smith took from his pocket half a dollar and held it out.

The simple looking youngster took the coin, licked it, dropped it in his pocket and slowly walked away whistling.

Hard Work.

"A mounted policeman must have a hard time."

"How so?"

"It can't be an easy matter to sleep on horseback."—Judge.

26 HOME PEOPLE OF LA GRANDE

Have listened to the Argument favoring Imbler fruit lands and have made purchases.

They are satisfied they have made no mistake, and the proof of their satisfaction is easily demonstrated.

These twenty-six people have property that is better today than when they bought—even if the sale was only made three days ago.

They will make money on the sale of their land if they choose to sell.

They will lay a foundation for a snug little fortune if they decide to hold their land and develop it
