Classified Advertising

Does 'Em All Good.

The advantages to be derived from the classified columns of the Evening Observer are becoming well known. A. L. Rice of Imbler recently spent $1.75 in this column and closed a deal representing more than a thousand dollars. Some La Grande business men were offered $1,000 for a piece of property and they decided to advertise it first. They spent $2.50 in the classified column and sold the property for $200 more than they were first offered. One lady phoned in recently saying, "Take out my rooms for rent ad. People are driving me crazy making inquiries and my house has been full since the second day I ran the ad."

Haven't you got something you would like to trade; some property you want to sell? Remember there is nothing too small to advertise in this column and nothing too large. The price is a cent a word each day. Try it.
