SEWER PLAN TO BE CHANGED

BIG STRING OF PETITIONERS BRING ABOUT CHANGES.

West La Grande Sewer Plans Voted and Will Be Rebuilt.

Taxpayers of the third ward—West La Grande—last night brought about a material delay in installation of sewers in that territory, and some affirm, added additional expense to their assessments by praying the council to readopt a set of sewer plans this time to provide for sewers in alleys rather than in the streets as the plans now adopted provide for. A long string of petitioners, scores in fact, stipulated to the council that they wanted the alley connections. Three or four business men and tax payers argued with the council not to change the plans. These men included ex-Mayor Hall and ex-Mayor Meyers. All work done, in a legal way will have to be done over, and it will require at least a month to get things started again. When a resolution, introduced on the strength of the petition, was voted on the councilmen with two exceptions, were guided by the vast majority and voted for the change as requested by the petitioners. Logsdon and Finley opposed.

Not alone will the plans have to be drafted but the matter of assessments will have to be done all over again, entailing a loss of time and a great deal of work. It is said that it is doubtful if the sewers will be laid this summer on the strength of the change.

SEWER DISTRICTS CHANGED.

Original Districts Sub-Divided Into Sections Last Night.

A move intended to expedite the installation of sewers was started last night through the passage of a resolution sub-dividing the three original sewer improvement districts. By virtue of this move, the sewer sections will be outlined so that territory where there are no houses need not be supplied with sewerage at this time. It gives a smaller community or section sewer facilities at once, rather than await the development of sparsely settled sections.

Daniels, counsel of the local camp and deputy head counsel for Eastern Oregon, was elected delegate from this county to the Hood River gathering. A. W. Nelson, La Grande, was elected alternate.

FORTUNES HAVE ALREADY BEEN MADE AT IMBLER AND THERE ARE MORE TO COME.

Taking into consideration the fact that Imbler's fruit section has never had proper organization until this Spring; that it has never had advertising along a regular campaign line; that the fruit has been sold hither and thither as the individual might see fit, and taking into further consideration that the orchard area has not been overly large until now, it is of some consequence to know that several snug fortunes have already been cleaned up by orchard men.

The Laidlaw purchase netted the owner a good return. In fact it was a deal that received prominence all over the West. Other smaller transactions have shown profit to land owners.

Are You in the Market for a Good Investment?

When we say, "are you in the market for a good investment?" we do not mean—have you $50,000 to invest. Not by any means, for the average investor invests his savings. Under the plans of fairness and equity which have been adopted in the Imbler district it is possible for the man or woman with a few hundred dollars to handle an orchard tract. A tract that will increase in value from the date of purchase and one that will net the owner big returns if it is held. The orchard planting plan relieves the investor from all care of his land except to go out occasionally and look it over if he so desires.

And when you go to the Imbler district to look over your tract that has been carefully planted and cultivated you cannot help then feeling the importance of your investment.

Fruit land is the one investment now on the market for the small investor that is absolutely sure of returns. All you need to do is to select an honorable concern with standing to handle your tract.

Those having good fruitland investment offerings in the Imbler district are:

- La Grande Investment Co.
- Wenaha Lumber Co.
- Sherwood Williams,
- Hill & Hibbard.
