OPEN BIDS FOR MAIN AVE.

ADJOURNED SESSION OF COUNCIL THIS EVENING.

Sewer Proposition in West La Grande Also Up Tonight.

Among the important issues to come up this evening will be the letting of a contract for hard-surfacing Main avenue from First to Fourth. This project was issued advertised at the last meeting and at the adjourned session tonight, the bids will be let.

Further action looking toward stupendous changes in the sewer plans in accordance with the wishes of tax payers in the first sewer district, will also be taken tonight. The tax payers in that section, West La Grande, want the sewers to run in the alleys, necessitating a repetition of the entire details which led up to the point where the sewers could be laid.

Various other matters of importance will also come up this evening.

LEAGUES RUN UP PENNANTS

did last year: come back after their reverse and carry off the flag. Jennings is known as a great manager but if he beats out Connie Mack this year with his somewhat doubtful bunch of Tigers, he may well be called the greatest manager. Jennings has lost Tom Jones from first and Matty McIntyre from right field and their successors look to be men of only mediocre ability.

Cleveland's Pitchers Young. Cleveland fans are refraining from making any predictions, as it is realized that nearly everything depends on how Maguire's big string of young pitchers turns out. Maguire will have to rely almost entirely on youngsters in the box, as Joss, Falkenburg and Young are all tottering. Several of the Cleveland youngsters showed well toward the close of last season, but a long grinding season, when the whole circuit has learned a pitcher's stock in trade, is a different proposition. Few experts pick Cleveland for the upper berth.

The easiest thing in the world to do is to pick the most probable occupant of the last place in the American league race. Bobby Wallace's luckless Cardinals have a warranty deed to the ground floor and if there were twice as many teams in the league, the same condition would prevail. If the Cardinals have a single strength, it has been concealed up to date. Twenty-nine of the baseball writers referred to, consigned the Cardinals to the cellar, but one writer, determined to have his joke, doping St. Louis to beat out Washington.

If St. Louis does turn such a trick, there will be one manager ready to jump off the Washington monument. He is Jimmy McAleer, pilot of the Senators, who actually has visions of the first division this year. The vision is not new to McAleer but it is painted in more glowing colors this year than ever before. In Johnson, Washington has one of the grandest pitchers if he returns to the fold. There are several other good men in McAleer's band, but on the whole the team seems to lack "unity and coherence," to borrow from the rhetoric.

The Boston Red Sox are sure to be heard from, although their work last year was disappointing. The Red Sox used to be known as the "speed merchants," but they seem to have lost this characteristic. Manager Donovan has been gradually dropping out of the managerial firmament and it is up to him to do valiant things this year to prevent his effacement. With Jake Stahl quitting the game and Lord and McConnell traded to the White Sox, Boston will have to build up a new infield this year. Once in a while you will find a manager who will tell you that this is no snap.

All in all it looks like a merry race with many a thrill between now and the time the flag falls.

The quicker a cold is gotten rid of, the less the danger from pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. E. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all dealers.

Building An Income for the Days When You Can Not be on the Pay Roll.

Have you thought of the time when old age and physical infirmities will cause the man at the desk to say, "Charlie, you have been a faithful man for years and it is with the deepest pain that I tell you old age prevents this company from further employing you unless we reduce you to a minor position."?

Yet this is what happens to all of us. Age prevents us from retaining highest usefulness. Not one man, but all meet the same conditions.

This being true, friends, what is better than an income for later life?

What is better than being able to say to the wife, "Well, wife, it was fortunate that we invested a few hundred dollars a year when I was able to make money—when I was in my prime and the children were small." It is with such an assurance that the man whose name appears on any company's pay roll can lie down to pleasant sleep and feel that his family is protected.

But what can the small investor buy that is sure to increase in value, and yet have his investment safe?

That is a question which has confronted every man who gets his check. That is a question that the shyster, the crook and the confidence man has taken advantage of for years and years. The stock jobber and the worthless bond seller have played upon this very heartstring to fill their own pockets with wealth from the man who works.

There is one investment which has stood the test of time; that has been solid and firm when all else trembled; that investment is land. When one owns and has title to Mother Earth he has something that only revolution and the dethronement of this republic could make unsafe—either of which is an impossibility in this enlightened age.

But ordinary land does not offer the returns that the small investor is entitled to receive unless that land be located in a fruit growing section and is set to a growing orchard. If his investment is in orchard land in the right locality the investor cannot only be sure of future income but he can also be certain of immense increase in value—a thing that nothing but fruit land today offers in proportion to the investment.

With Orchard property a man does not have to buy a half section to make a living. A few acres not only will care for him and his family but it will make him money besides. It is safe as to crop in this valley and the market is assured.

Then why ponder of what you will do with your savings when at home—right here in Union county—you can own a tract of fruit land, have it cared for, look after it yourself and enjoy seeing the value each day enhance?
