

EASTER MUSIC IN LA GRANDE CHURCHES PREPARED WITH CAREFUL TRAINING

Splendor of Knights Templar Gathering, with Band, Orchestral, Choir and Solo Music Not Alone in Attraction—List of Programs for the Day.

A SENTIMENT FOR EASTER-TIDE.

Easter exemplifies the triumph of life. Life is the supreme fact. Let us believe only in life, refusing to be dominated by the substantial wrath called death, refusing to be diverted thereby from the "upward looking and the light." Then will Easter be to us the most significant, the most inspiring, the most uplifting of all the days that dawn.

Not in many years will Easter Sunday be observed with such elaborate religious observance as is forecasted for tomorrow. Each church is giving special attention to its Easter anthems, chants, recitations, and glorias, yet the service that will attract the great amount of public interest will be the Knights Templar observance at the high school auditorium when 100 or more Knights of the Order will take the audience of the audience there. The services, ritualistic, are elaborate—the glitter of uniforms and the reading of the religious rituals leading up to the sermon proper will be both splendid and fitting. The public at large is cordially invited to attend these services. At the auditorium these exercises and observances will be carried out:

Onward, Christian Soldier—During the singing of the foregoing song, the Sir Knights will enter the high school auditorium. A column entering from either side and marching down sides to rear, then to and down the center aisle, will file right and left into pews.

Voluntary—Orchestra, Pilgrims' Chorus—From Tannhauser.

Praise Ye the Father—Gounod. By the choir of the First Presbyterian church and orchestra.

First Lesson—Nineteenth Psalm. Chant—By the choir and congregation Gloria Patria.

The Apostles' Creed. Prayer—Rev. S. W. Seemann, D. D., Pastor First Presbyterian church.

Antiphon—The Choir Angelic—Banscombe. By the choir of the First Presbyterian church.

Scripture Lesson. Hymn—All Hail the Power. (The people standing).

Sermon—Eminent Sir S. W. Seemann, minister First Presbyterian church.

Offering. Offertory—(Serenade)—Schubert. By La Grande orchestra.

Benediction by the minister. The congregation will please remain seated. The knights will file out of the pews and march in columns of twos, preceded by the cross bearer, while the orchestra plays.

Recessional—(The War March of the Priests)—Mendelssohn.
