The senior Galloway was left in about the same condition as he was when the Elgin man was called there. Mr. and Mrs. Galloway have been gone several weeks, and are glad to get back. The commissioner is here this afternoon and will go on to Elgin tomorrow.

MRS. WORSTELL RETURNS.

Long Trip to Arizona Filled With Plenty of Sight-Seeing.

Mrs. W. A. Worstell returned this morning from a ten-weeks' junket through California and Arizona. En route she visited all the places of note in California, visiting friends here and there but always absorbing everything of interest.

At Phoenix, where she was a guest with Doctor and Mrs. Smith, former residents of La Grande, she met several La Grande people. Mr. and Mrs. James Peppers are doing nicely and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jacobs are comfortably located in the desert region, all doing well physically and financially. After an extended visit at Phoenix, which by the way included two squints at Theodore Roosevelt during his trip through there, trips to the Pan-American ostrich farm where 2,300 ostriches are farmed and she saw the prize bird, valued at $10,000, and visits to the Indian villages were also enjoyed.

The superb ride through the Grand canyon of Arizona was one of the sights of her journey and Mrs. Worstell classes it as the climax to them all.

When Mrs. Worstell left La Grande she was suffering with a severe cold but the balmy winter weather of the south cured her completely.
