LAST YEAR'S STAR TWIRLER IS HERE FOR THE SEASON.

Brings Confidence to Fans and Interest in Game Grows.

"Heck" McInnis is in town. The whirlwind twirler arrived from Portland last night and is in shape to go against Baker next Sunday when the Eastern Oregon league opens with La Grande at Baker and Union at Elgin.

As big as ever, in good trim and anxious to get to throwing the big fellow has lent added interest to baseball circles. Fans are awakening to the fact that the season is nearing rapidly and that within the short space of 10 days the first game of the year will be called here.

Notwithstanding the cold weather, members of the squad now here are getting some practice daily.

MAY MEET BEST SCHOOL MEN.

Teachers Have Big Opportunity at O. A. C. Summer Session.

Corvallis, Ore., April 21.—(Special) Opportunity to meet some of the most influential and active school men in the state will be given teachers who attend the summer session of the Oregon agricultural college, which opens June 19 and closes July 28.

Waldo hall, the girls dormitory, will be the residence hall for both men and women attending the summer courses, so there will be frequent chance for becoming acquainted, both in the dining hall and the parlors. A series of receptions, dances, concerts and lectures, with evening band concerts on the open campus, are being planned to add to the social attractions of these six weeks. In addition there will be frequent picnics along the banks of the Willamette and Mary's rivers, where canoeing is a popular sport, and cross-country trips to Mary's peak and other points of interest in this part of the valley, which is one of the most beautiful districts in the state.

Beside the aim to make these weeks of study as pleasant as possible, those in charge of the program have another and more serious object in view. Often, through a chance meeting at one of these social gatherings, a superintendent or principal finds just the teacher to fill a position requiring certain qualifications; and as often a teacher discovers an opening offering more opportunity for advancement and development in her work.
