AD CLUB BOOSTER TO COME

NEED OF ACTIVE AD CLUB IN LA GRANDE SEEN.

Booster Here From Portland on His Way to Boise on Business

H. Waters Johnson, secretary of the Portland Ad club, an organization that is doing as much for the upbuilding of Portland and the state as any other organization in Portland, passed through the city this morning on his way to Boise where he goes on business for the Schmidt Lithograph company of Portland. On his return he will visit La Grande business men.

"The need for an ad club in La Grande is very urgent," declared the secretary of the Portland association. "It brings the advertiser and the buyer together, for the club has in its membership every individual who works through the advertising medium—the man who has something to sell and the man who has something to buy, and also the men who handle the mediums through which these men secure what they are after."

While his mission is not primarily to organize ad clubs at this time, he will nevertheless talk the proposition over with La Grande advertisers when he returns from his trip to Boise and other Idaho points.

ANIMALS' TOILETS.

Fur Seals Are as Particular as Women in Fixing Up.

The cat carries her clothesbrush in her mouth, for with her rough tongue she cleanses her glossy coat as a boy brushes off his clothes. She licks one of her front paws and rubs it over her face and she is ready for her breakfast.

Foxes, dogs and wolves do not use their mouths when they need to wash and brush, but scratch themselves vigorously with their hind paws and are as fresh as ever.

The cow with her long, rough tongue combs her coat of hair until it is clean and curly. The horse more than any other animal depends on his owner to keep his coat in proper condition, but often he will roll on the green grass or rub himself down against a tree or fence.

Field mice comb their hair with their hind legs, and the fur seal in a similar manner spends as much time as a woman in making herself look smart.

Although the elephant appears to be thick skinned and callous, he takes great care of his skin. He often gives himself a shower bath by drawing water into his long trunk and blowing it on the different parts of his body. After the bath he sometimes rolls himself in a toilet preparation of dust to keep off the flies.—Our Dumb Animals.

GAMBLER FOR A GIRL.

Prince Lucien Bonaparte Won a Bride From His Brother Pierre.

It is said that the two brothers, Prince Louis Lucien Bonaparte and Prince Pierre, in their early youth when shooting mousons in the mountains in Corsica, came across a beautiful peasant girl with whom they both fell violently in love.

Who she was and whether she favored both brothers or neither I cannot tell. Be that as it may, they quarreled. Les preux chevaliers of old would no doubt in similar occurrence have had recourse to lance and sword. The Corsican princes decided to play for their belle a game of cards. They went to the nearest inn and wrote and signed a paper agreeing that whichever won the game should marry the lady fair. Prince Lucien won and, faithful to his word, a short time after married her.

She never left the island as far as I know. Prince Lucien lived in England, securing to her a comfortable income, which she received till her death, somewhere about the spring of 1891.—From the Princess Murat's Memoirs.

Flower Perfumes.

A garden full of flowers is more fragrant when shadowed by a cloud than when bathed in sunshine; at least that is the conclusion to which experiments of a French scientist lead. He asserts that it is light and not, as commonly believed, oxygen that exerts the greatest influence in despoiling odors. According to the same authority, the intensity of the perfume given off by a flower depends upon the relation between the pressure of water in the cells of the plant, which tends to drive out the essential oils that cause the odor, and the action of the sunlight, which tends to diminish water pressure in the cells. Sprinkling the plant increases the turpescence and as a consequence a more copious production of perfume. At night the air round a flower bed is heavy with odors, because then their emanation is not opposed by the sunlight.—New York Tribune.

Let this sink in deep.

Then come to our office or call us up on the phone and request us to show you this property.

If you have made investments in real estate, avail yourself of this opportunity to make comparisons.

The terms are such that no sacrifice will have to be made in order to meet them.

If this addition was located near a town with a less bright future before it than La Grande, it would still be an excellent investment, and with the future La Grande has before it, the increase in the value of these lots will be phenomenal.
