

New Carpets Arriving Daily at HENRY & CARR'S

Our carpet department never offered a more complete showing than at the present time. New patterns in the staple lines have been arriving in goodly numbers, and the range of selection is greater than ever before.

AMBER VELVETS—

The first shown in La Grande, but they are already proving very popular. Several patterns are displayed in our windows. To the good house-wife who wants something inexpensive, yet possessing excellent wearing qualities, this carpet will make a special appeal. We'll put it in your home $1.15 yd.

No matter how many dealers you may find in a town, in any line, there will always be one who enjoys a larger share of the trade than any of the others. In La Grande we are recognized as the leading house-furnishers. Not because our prices are lower,—though in many cases they are; and not because our goods are better,—though they are as good as the best. It is because through twenty years of honest dealing we have merited and received the confidence of the people.

Splendid Values in Rugs

Many new ones to pick from. Prices range from 45 cents for the small bath-rug to $150 for the genuine imported Kirmanshaw. Whether you are more interested in quality or price, this store is the logical place to buy your rugs.

HARTFORD WILTON VELTENS— For beauty and wearing quality, unsurpassed by any American rug. Ranks next to the Oriental in popularity. Priced according to size. See them in our windows.

HARTFORD AXMINSTERS— High-grade, durable and attractive. $18.50 up.

SMITH AXMINSTERS— Medium-priced but serviceable. Wide range of patterns. One of the best sellers we have. $17.50 up.

PARENTS' DAY OBSERVED

INSTEAD OF MOTHER'S DAY, PARENT DAY INAUGURATED.
Presbyterian Church to Conduct Special Services on May 14.

Mother's day is now a widely recognized institution and it is not surprising that there has been a very hearty participation in this memorial day. Sunday, May 14, is to be Mother's day this year. The object is to honor one's mother whether living or dead. The method of celebration will differ widely. Some will wear a flower. Some will write letters to their mothers. Some will perform some service for their mothers to brighten their days in the world. Some, in memory of their dead mothers, will minister to some needy living mother. In the churches in many places the services will be in honor of the mothers living and dead. Two years ago, the Presbyterian church here observed Mother's day. The service was beautiful and helpful. This year more elaborate preparations are planned and a most impressive service is anticipated. The sermon, the hymns, the special music, the scripture and the prayer will be appropriate to the day. The church will be decorated and each attendant will receive a white carnation. But the service this year will be called Parents' day. Father and mother will be honored.

The Spendthrift's Income.

What is your income? Are you spending more than you earn? Does your wife manifest any interest in your earning capacity? These and similar vital questions are suggested to every theatre-goer who witnesses Porter Emerson Browne's startling drama, "The Spendthrift," which Frederic Thompson will present at the Steward May 11.

No play of recent years has created so widespread a discussion among all classes as has "The Spendthrift." It is a story that hits the bull's eye of domestic extravagance and gives every man and woman of every class food for thought.

For its presentation here Frederic Thompson has assembled a cast of particular strength and general excellence, headed by Doris Mitchell, and the play will be staged in an exquisitely artistic manner.
