LACK OF ORGANIZATION.

We believe the city of Portland is the best example of present day unsuccessful municipal government in the northwest. It is really interesting to watch this city and note what dissatisfactory methods are used: what fearful negligence and lethargy prevails and then hear the wall of those citizens who stayed away from the polls and refused to exercise their right of franchise on primary day.

Now that Rushlight is nominated there is a move on foot to send him to the pile of discards by putting an independent candidate in the center. It is doubtful however if this will work because there is no organization to the movement. The people of Portland will never rule themselves unless they become organized. They may think that they are doing a wonderful job, but when it is all boiled down it will be found that the people have been used and those who seek to run things have even borrowed ammunition from the people's commissary to help in the bombardment, yet accomplishing the intended results just the same. Municipal government is no longer a joke-it is a serious matter that tends to shake the foundation of what is termed popular government, and the time is coming when a city like Portland will elect one man to run it. Yes, it is time to scream autocracy and oligarchy when such a statement is made, but watch and The best rule in the world is the rule of the people when they will do it, but most people do not give a continental what happens so long as they make a few dollars. They don't want to be bothered with public affairs. Strange, isn't it, but it is true the country over.

GETTING BACK TO THE SOIL.

Don Pruitt, who for several years has been city editor of the Baker Herald, has cut all printshop ties and has decided to get back to soil, taking Jim Hill's advice without any restriction whatever. In doing this Mr. Pruitt is merely-acting as advance guard or scout for a great army of office men who in time must take the sams course. At the present time the producers are in minority. The cities are crowded. Even Portland is worrying over the load of humanity that clings to the electric lights rather than go to Central Oregon's rural district and become independent.

The only way to balance this proposition, which is a very vital one, is to educate the people to farm life. Keep constantly before them the opportunities offered and belittle the solitude of farm life as it should be belittled. We need more Don Pruitts, who right in the prime of his young career, sees the handwriting on the wall and decides to trace the pathway back to the ranch where nature makes them happy, where contentment is in store for those who are built right. where man can improve the lands, raise good stock, have strawberries and cream and be supremely happy

Now that a battle has been fought in Mexico there may be a real little war on for some time to come. Diaz nows he must go but just how to go is the question that is bothering the old Indian's mind.

Don't complain of the rain; that is what makes the Grande Ronde valley crops an assured success, and the crops are an essential part of the Easiern Origon wealth production.
