ASYLUM WORK IS PLANNED

EASTERN OREGON ASYLUM WILL BE CONSTRUCTED.

No Referendum Attachment and Work Can Go on Immediately.

(Pendleton East Oregonian.)
With the expiration Saturday of the time for filing referendum petitions and no such petition having been filed to hold up the additional appropriation for the Eastern Oregon branch hospital the state board is now free to proceed with the establishment of the institution adjacent to this city.

That the plans for the buildings are almost completed and that work will be undertaken soon is stated by Governor Oswald West. For many weeks past State Architect Knighton has been at work upon the plans for the buildings and it is expected he will have them completed by June 1. Bids for the construction of the buildings will then be asked for and the contracts let.

According to Governor West the board will first build the main administration building and a wing on either side, the other wings proposed being added later on as needed. The heating plant and laundry buildings will also be built at once. The state has already made arrangements with the O.-W. R. & N. company for the construction of a spur through the rear of the branch asylum grounds so as to permit of the unloading of fuel and supplies right at the institution.

"In constructing the branch asylum hospital buildings," says Governor West, "we are going to act carefully and with a view to the future as well as to the present needs of the institution. We will erect the very best buildings possible with the money appropriated and we will try to arrange for a model institution in every regard."

DRILL TEAM TO WORK

INITIATION AT HOPE CHAPTER TO BE BIG EVENT.

Banquet, Initiation and Floral Drill for Wednesday Evening.

What will likely be the last opportunity to see Hope chapter floral drill team put on the splendid drill which it is anticipated will prove something of a revelation to the Portland grand lodge in June, will be accorded members of Hope chapter and the visiting members of the order of Easter Star, next Wednesday evening. The lodge will initiate a class on that evening, and following it comes the entire drill which is to be put on in Portland. As a climax to it all will be a banquet served by two social sections of the lodge.

"Every member should be present and the drill team will duplicate its proposed drill in Portland, on that evening," said Grand Worthy Matron Carrie Hunter this morning. "The team has certainly perfected itself and there will be an opportunity presented for those who cannot go to Portland, to see this team work as it will in Portland."

OLD TIME SCHOOLS.

Methods in Days When "No Lickin', No Larnin'" Was the Rule.

The schoolroom practices of a half century ago are incredible to a modern pupil. It is well that they have not been continued, but an account of them by an eyewitness is often amusing. One incident from A. H. Hall's "Old Bradford School-days" brings up a teacher who clung to the old principle, "No lickin', no larnin'."

Horace Walton, at recess, climbed to the top of the highest nut tree and, losing his hold, fell to the ground. He struck on many of the limbs in his descent. The boys were terribly frightened as he struck the ground. Just as we crowded about him to see if he still lived, our faces as white as his, the bell rang for the resumption of studies.

The last boy in was Walton, and just as he fell rather than sat down in his seat the master shouted, "Come out here instant!" He gave him a dogging that made the fall from the tree seem the lesser of the two evils.

A few years ago, meeting Walton for the first time for many years, he remarked that he well remembered how that master at last succeeded in bringing things into routine order in the school. Each morning as the school assembled this order was observed: "First bell, come to order; second bell, attention; third bell, lick Walton."

Siren in Skirts.

Which is the most recent siren (of the animal variety) in history? Jacobus Noleas relates that in 1403 a siren was captured in the Zuider Zee. She was (says Mr. Norman Douglas in "Siren Land") brought to Haarlem and, being naked, allowed herself to be clothed; she learned to eat like a Dutchman; she could spin thread and take pleasure in other maidenly occupations; she was gentle and lived to a great age. But she never spoke. The honest burghers had no knowledge of the language of the sea folk to enable them to teach her their own tongue, so she remained mute to the end of her days.
