Seemann, were held from the home on Washington avenue and a large number of warm friends of the deceased and of her family, attended the services.

Mrs. Mary Noble, wife of the late Wm. Noble of this city, died while en route to Portland Wednesday at 11:30 a. m. She had gone to spend a few weeks with her two daughters, Margaret and Elizabeth. The Isis Has It Again.

A magnificent program is billed at this popular house for tonight and tomorrow the feature picture being "The Inherited Taint."

No recent motion picture production so well illustrates the great up-lift that has taken place in tone and quality of the films of the present day as the latest Vitagraph subject, "The Inherited Taint." The story deals with the taste for strong drink inherited by a young man of otherwise excellent instincts. Through his overpowering love for a pure young woman he is able to overcome the evil impulses that come from his inherited taint, and is thus redeemed for a life of sobriety and usefulness. The moral of the story is so obvious and excellent that the film cannot fail to be a power for great good. At the same time it is told in a manner so interesting that the attention and sympathy of the spectators are held throughout.

Theo. Morse's greatest song, "If This Rose Told You All It Knows" was sang this afternoon by Miss Garrick and will be sung by Mr. Ferrin tonight and tomorrow.

This is one of the greatest songs recently brought out and is creating a furore of praise in the east today. By the courtesy of the management of the Isis theatre Miss Garrick will sing this beautiful song at the L. D. S. church tonight. Charles E. King, musical director of the Isis theatre will act as Miss Garrick's accompanist.

INTERNATIONAL PEACE SUBJECT.

Much-Noted Diplomatic Question Will Be Discussed From Pulpit Here.

International peace and disarmament of the nations is in the air, and is the philanthropic watchword of the world in this decade. The greatest minds of the age are in the arena international, wielding swords of rhetoric and of gold, supposing, proposing and composing all sorts of plans whereby the money now spent in making the earth one vast amphitheatre of war, can be transposed into a field of mutual peace.

Some of the signs of progress will be cited Sunday morning in the Methodist church, Pastor Gillilan speaking on the subject.
