SAVE RADISHES AND ONIONS.

Carbolic Emulsion Good to Kill Eggs and Maggots.

Corvallis, Ore., June 7.—“Carbolic acid emulsion is used to destroy the eggs and young maggots which infest radishes, onions and similar garden crops, and occasionally for other insects,” is a statement of H. F. Wilson, entomologist at the Oregon agricultural college, who is about to publish a useful bulletin on the protection of the garden from pests.

“To make such an emulsion, dissolve a pound of hard soap in a gallon of boiling water, add a pint of crude carbolic acid, and churn (preferably with a hand pump) until the mixture is a creamy white. This forms a stock which may be diluted by adding 30 times as much water as stock. It should be applied to the surface of the ground about the plants.”

Freshmen Insist on Green Caps.

Corvallis, Ore., June 7.—At the last meeting of the O. A. C. freshmen a formal vote was taken as to whether the first-year men of the institution should henceforth be required to distinguish themselves on the campus by wearing green felt skull caps. The ballot was 95 for the caps and 43 against them. It is thought that this will lead to stronger organization of the class, binding the members together, and making it possible for a new man to recognize a classmate as he could not do otherwise.

CONDITIONS PROMISING

ALLEN OF NEW YORK SAYS ERA OF ACTIVITY IS HERE.

Farm Products Are to Be the Basis of National Reserve.

Spokane, Wash., June 1.—“Viewed from every angle and taking everything into consideration conditions throughout the country present a most promising outlook, and there is every reason to believe that as a nation we are upon the threshold of an era of activity and progress.”

George E. Allen of New York, director of educational affairs of the American Institute of Banking, said this in an interview here. He added:

“Probably one of the best signs of returned prosperity is the $600,000,000 bond issue announced by the Great Northern Railway company. That will tend to have the best sort of an influence. It means something to the public, which actions of the big corporations have not meant in some time. It means that the railroad heads are cognizant that money is available and, naturally, they will take steps to bring it from under cover. The result is to be a strong independent market and good times.”

“Wall street manufactured profits on a half-inch of rain a couple of weeks ago. The embers measure profits by the rainfall. The crop conditions are fine. This rain has quite entirely changed the outlook, and the fact that there is plenty of money available means that we have only to sweep away psychological fears to bring back complete confidence in business.”

“When the new national reserve plan, the so-called Aldrich plan, is put into effect, it will be by the people, and not by the bankers. That plan, or whatever plan is worked out, will be worked out on a basis of using farm products, wheat, corn, oats and cotton, principally, as security for the $600,000,000, or whatever is needed annually to move these same crops.”

“Bonds, stocks, minerals and that sort of thing will not be the basis of security. We are the only nation of any size which does not make farm products the basis of security for loans to move these valuable crops. We are bound to come to it.”

SPEAKER CLARK'S GAVEL.

It Came From the Apron Log of an Old Haunted Mill.

Speaker Champ Clark rules the house of representatives at Washington with a big new gavel of bur oak, which comes from the apron log of an ancient haunted mill in Pike county, Mo.

The mallet comes from the mill dam of the first gristmill ever built north of the Missouri river. Away back in 1817 Enock Matson, said to be the first white child born in Bourbon county, Ky., who had migrated to Missouri, built an old fashioned mill on the Peno river. Many years ago the mill tumbled down and was almost forgotten, except for the fact that it was presumed to be haunted by Indians who had battled with whites there because the daughter of an Indian chief ran away with a paleface.

Last summer a descendant of Pioneer Matson and a number of Mr. Clark's constituents in Ralls county sought the old mill site and, abetted by a pair of Missouri mules, drew from the sand and water the apron log of the now useless mill dam. The gavel was cut from it, brightly varnished and sent on to Washington.

On one face the mallet bears the inscription:

“Made from the apron log of the first mill built north of the Missouri river, on the Peno, Pike county, by Enock Matson in 1817. Presented to Champ Clark, first speaker of the house of representatives from Missouri, by his constituents in Ralls county, Missouri.”

On the opposite face is engraved one of Mr. Clark's favorite maxims: “He serves his party best who serves his country well.”

Lighting Economy

“If electric lights were as economical as coal oil lamps, we'd all use them.”

—but wait a minute. What do you call economy? Is it economy to impair your health with ill-smelling lamps that burn up the life-giving oxygen in the air?

Is it economy to strain your eyes using a dim yellow light that smokes and flickers.

Is it economy to run the terrible risk—fire and explosion—that is ever present when coal oil lamps are used?

These are not economies; they are dangers.

Electricity furnishes a cool steady light, that leaves the air pure; that won't flicker, and can't explode. All you need to do is press the button, and it's ready any time.

When your health, comfort, and peace of mind are taken into consideration, ELECTRIC LIGHT IS CHEAPER.

It doesn't cost much to have your house wired. Just phone Main 34, or call at our office.
