THE ISIS HAS IT AGAIN

EXCEEDINGLY FINE PROGRAM FOR MID WEEK.

Manager Sherwood Presents Program of Unusual Excellency.

Probably never before has La Grande had such a magnificent and interesting program of moving pictures as Manager Sherwood put on this afternoon, and to continue until Thursday night. Four subjects, all totally unlike, and each one full of absorbing interest for the student, mechanic, the lover of high class drama, and the multitude of people who enjoy real clean comedy. This selected program has been secured by Mr. Sherwood through the head exchange of the west by constantly asking for and demanding "the best."

To commence with there is a beautiful drama by the Vitagraph company entitled "The Spirit of the Light." A touching love story woven round an artist and a light house keeper's daughter with such wonderful photography of big ships in danger of running ashore, until warned by "the spirit of the light" that the audience is held spell bound by the expectancy that the ships will never be able to weather the point of land. It is a marvel of photography, evidently taken under tremendous difficulties. Probably no other firm is the world is capable of taking and reproducing pictures such as this is.

Number two on the program is a series of moving photographs showing the actual working of the great Atlantic City ocean motor, generating 7,500 horse power from the direct action of the ocean waves. The picture is aptly entitled, "Harnessing the Ocean." This is the only contrivance of its kind in the world and the photography is so skillfully arranged that the system adopted is very easily understood even by an amateur in mechanics. Anyone interested (as most everybody is, more or less), in mechanics, should certainly not miss seeing this exhibit.

Then the Pathe company has a picture called "The Rescue of the Abernathy Kids." Well, if realism counts for anything in photoplay, this production ranks very high. The "kids" ride out into the forest with a lunch for their father. On their return they dismount from their horses to go bird nesting and are pursued and attacked by two wolves. There is no mistake or "fake" about these wolves. They are real and they evidently mean business. Just in time the kids climb into the branches of a tree and the wolves stay around until long after. When the father sets out to try and locate the children with the aid of three or four bloodhounds, real bloodhounds, too. Of course, the hounds follow the trail to where the boys took refuge in the tree and then the fur flies and flies fast, too. How this wonderful photoplay is accomplished we know not, but nevertheless, it is there and the genuineness of the details cannot be denied. To wind up with there is a roaring Edison comedy with old friend "Bumpty" as a hero of the civil war. He insists that alone he captured a flag from the enemy and refuses to share the honor with a comrade who makes equal assertion that he captured the trophy. Well, you must see it to find the sequel. It is great. Manager Sherwood deserves all credit for obtaining such an interesting program and we predict La Grande will not be slow to appreciate it.

A Kitchen Cabinet Means Kitchen Comfort

The woman who is on her feet all day appreciates these great time and labor savers. These cabinets have simplified the kitchen work and removed much of the drudgery. It has a place for everything you can possibly need in your cooking within easy reach when you are sitting down. There are bins for flour and sugar, coffee and tea—jars for spices, bottles for extracts, drawers for kitchen utensils—a place for everything. One novel feature is a metal-covered worktable, which is adjustable, sanitary, and acid proof. Cabinets like the one illustrated sell for $47.50. Other styles from $9.50 to $60.00.

Have a Cool Kitchen—Use a Fireless Cooker

No need to swelter over a hot stove these days. We sell the "Caloric," the simplest and best. Bakes, stews and boils, and maintains an even temperature for hours. Requires no further attention after food is placed in the cooker. Metal lined makes it easy to keep clean. Will not absorb odors. So simple a child can operate it. Price $14.00. See them in our windows.

Princeton Commencement

Princeton, N. J., June 13.—Many distinguished visitors participated today in the one hundred and sixty-fourth annual commencement of the Princeton University. The academic procession formed in front of Nassau Hall shortly after 10 o'clock and then marched to Alexandria Hall, where the presentation of diplomas and the conferring of degrees took place. The program for the remainder of the day included the election of an alumni trustee, the alumni luncheon in the gymnasium, and a swimming exhibition in Brookaw pool.

Master Plumbers Convene.

Galveston, Texas, June 13.—Master plumbers from every section of the United States, several thousand strong are here for the annual convention of the National Association of Master Plumbers which opened today. The plumbers will be here for four days. Entertainment is plentifully interspersed with the business sessions, at which matters of trade interest will be discussed. President George E. Robinson of Austin called the meeting to order.

Chicagoans to Visit Boston.

Chicago, Ill., June 13.—A delegation of 150 members of the Chicago Association of Commerce, accompanied by the governors of several of the Mississippi Valley states, left today on a trip to Boston to repay the visit made to Chicago last year by members of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Illinois G. A. R. Veterans.

Joliet, Ill., June 13.—Gaily decorated in patriotic colors, Joliet extended a hearty welcome today to the thousands of veterans and other visitors gathered here for the 45th annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Illinois. Today was devoted largely to the business of the encampment. Tomorrow, which will be Flag day, has been appropriately selected as the day for the big parade. Governor Denton, Commander-in-Chief John C. Gilman of Boston and other notables are expected here to review the procession.
