

Dont Swelter
in a Hot Kitchen---

Electric ranges won't over-heat your kitchen. You can keep the windows open; range is draught-proof. You can cook better because you can regulate the heat of any part instantly and independently. You can cook quicker; heats up in a minute, and stays hot as long as you want it. Cook cleaner; no smoke, soot or ashes. Cook easier; stove regulates the heat automatically, and requires little attention. No fires to build or wood to carry in. Let us tell you about our special low rate which makes electricity cost about the same as wood. Another shipment is on the way, but the demand is heavy so we urge you to place your order now.

SPOKANE FINDS VALUABLE INFORMATION IN ROCK.

Scientists to Study Conditions as Uncovered by Workmen.

Spokane, Wash., June 16, (Special)—Believing that the discovery of a lava-charred log, imbedded 89 feet from the face of a cut into basalt rock formation in the eastern part of Spokane, will aid science to deduce much important data regarding the geological status of the Spokane valley, experts connected with the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, D. C., will be requested by the Spokane chamber of commerce to make a thorough analysis of the mass.

Father A. J. Adams, S. J., instructor of physics at Gonzaga college, Spokane, has made a series of experiments to determine the character of the tree, but beyond establishing the fact it is a hardwood the log so far has withstood all attempts at chemical analysis, probably owing to the numerous changes it has undergone. "After consulting every reliable authority at my command," Father Adams said, "I have reached the conclusion that Spokane valley is of comparatively recent formation, a product perhaps of the Cenozoic period. Of course the surrounding mountains, such as the Cascades and the Rockies, are of much older formation, dating back, no doubt, to the Mesozoic period.

"The more recent crustal movements in all probabilities took place after the glacial period, although the volcanic eruptions in the vicinity of Spokane date back 15,000 to 200,000 years. This peculiar volcanic belt underlying Spokane would seem to date back at least 100,000 years. This formation in Division street in the locality of the stump, indicates that the tree was imbedded during the recent crustal changes.

"The nature of the surroundings and other geological conditions accompanying the discovery are of the utmost significance to the people of this age since they aid science to deduce much interesting data relative to geological status of this locality not heretofore definitely established."

The log was found by laborers employed in a rock cut on the Spokane International railway. The mass was split and hacked by the men, who did not know its scientific value, though three large fragments, the size of cord wood, were rescued by representatives of the Spokane chamber of commerce, Gonzaga and Spokane colleges and civil engineers connected with the railroad. H. A. Margoyleh, a local railway contractor had charge of the work, also secured several 8-foot pieces, which he will have fashioned into an easy chair.

The formation at the point where the log was encountered included a layer of rock, one of ashes and another of rock, the thickest part of the wood being imbedded in ashes with the basalt rock covering it. The roots were burned off, while the rest of the log was charred to a depth ranging from one to two inches. The color of the wood is dark brown. It is close grain and in a good state of preservation.

adoption of the plan would be a good thing in New York, not only in connection with the gas companies but also for governing the operation of other public utilities including the new subways, the terms of operation of these having been the cause of interminable discussion and disagreement.
