Happiest Girl in Lincoln.

A Lincoln, Neb., girl writes, "I had been ailing for some time with chronic constipation and stomach trouble. I began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and in three days I was able to be up and better right along. I am the proudest girl in Lincoln to find such a good medicine." For sale by all dealers.

Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and lose several days' time, unless you have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance of the disease. For sale by all dealers.

It's Good For What Ails You

Slavery in Old Greece.
The Greeks were slave owners with a vengeance. All manual work was done by "barbarians," as the Greeks called those who had been captured in war. The greatest of the Greeks saw no evil in the institution. Aristotle is quite outspoken in his justification of slavery. A certain amount of mean work had to be done, he claimed, and "mean natured men" were intended to do it. The slaves in some of the Greek states outnumbered the freemen four or five to one. Manual labor came in Greece to be thought a degradation, suited only for beings who could not do the higher work. Even freemen who worked for wages were by Aristotle placed outside the constitution. And what was true of the Greeks was equally true of most of the other ancient nations--Exchange.

Shakespeare as an Actor.
About the year 1590 one of the London companies received an addition in the person of a young man who was not only a skillful and useful actor, but who also possessed the accomplishment of being able to adapt older plays to the taste of the times and even proved to have the gift of writing tolerably good plays himself, though older and jealous colleagues might hint at their not being altogether original. This young man, whose capacities became of no slight use to the company and the theater, was named William Shakespeare--From "A History of Theatrical Art."

Very Complicated.
Aunt Kate--What brings that young Mr. Stevens to the house so often?
Mildred--Well, his mother's stepfather married a second cousin of my father's great-aunt. We're trying to figure out what relation that makes him to me, and it can't be done in one evening--St. Louis Times.

Keeping Tab on Dad.
"What does your father do when you ask him any questions?" asked one small boy.
"He generally says, 'I'm busy just now; don't bother me.'" replied the other. "Then when I go out of the room he looks in the encyclopedia."--Washington Star.

Breaking the Record.
The Caller--I hear that you're been to a party, Mabel. Did you dance much?
Mabel (aged eight)--I should say I did. I danced two quadrillions.--Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Celebration at Kettle Falls.

Kettle Falls, Wash., June 23.--Many pioneers of this section gathered here today to celebrate the centennial of the discovery of Kettle Falls and to pay honor to the memory of David Thompson, the Hudson Bay company agent, who discovered the falls in 1811 and in the year following established the first trading post in the far northwest on what is now American territory.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.
