GIBBON SUITED FOR HATCHERY

FISH WARDEN AND ASSISTANT
LIKE SITE.

Everything Found to Be Suitable for Trout Plant There.

Declaring the proposed site at Gibbon for a fish hatchery to be ideal for that purpose, W. L. Finley, state game warden, and R. E. Clinton, master fish warden, are in the city today after having spent yesterday up the river on an inspection trip, says the Pendleton East Oregonian. Their approval does not necessarily mean that the fish hatchery will be established there for the decision rests with the state fish and game commission but their recommendation will be largely instrumental in determining the action of the commission.

The only condition upon which they are as yet unable to report is that of the temperature of the water as no statistics on this matter could be obtained. However, observations will be made and both men expressed the belief that the water would be found of satisfactory temperature.

"If the water is found too warm," said Mr. Clinton, "the pools can be deepened to overcome this bad feature. Warm water is conducive to disease and every precaution must be taken to prevent disease from getting among the fry."

Transportation Is Factor.

"Gibbon is especially well adapted for a hatchery," he went on to say, "because of its transportation facilities which is a very necessary qualification. Food could be sent up each day from Pendleton and the feeding is an important factor. The small fry are first fed on liver but afterwards salt food, such as the offals from animals, salt smelt and salmon, is used. Fish require a great deal of food and enormous quantities are used. Last winter, 50 tons of offals and 10 tons of smelt were salted down for use." It is not the intention at present, according to the wardens, to place brook trout in the proposed hatchery at Gibbon but in the future pools may be made for that purpose. The plan now is to ship in the eggs, hatch them at Gibbon and keep the fry until they are three inches in length before liberating them.

Money Invested in a Home Brings You Real Rewards

that cannot be measured alone in dollars and cents. There's satisfaction in knowing you have a home when possibly all other investments fail—it gives you a feeling of security and demands the recognition of your fellow townsmen, because by building you show your faith in the future of the community. And every community is known by its deeds. You can help and at the same time help yourself. A home investment is always the most meritorious, and loss is less likely because you are dealing in values you understand and with people you know. We have supplied the lumber for the homes of many of your friends who are now on the road to success, and want to talk with you whenever you're ready.
