BATTIS WILL ENTERTAIN

MANY LOOK TO HIM TO GIVE REALLY BEST PROGRAM.

Tomorrow Night Will See Dickens' Characters Impersonated Here.

Saturday night marks the appearance in this city of William Sterling Battis, the master of Dickens' characters, and a great many La Grande people look to him to give the finest entertainment of any on the chautauqua program. It would be hard to conceive of anything more entertaining and instructive than the "travels through Africa" delivered last evening by Gabriel Maguire, but to those who are at all familiar with Dickens' characters, it is conceded that the old English classics will prove a channel for Battis to entertain with finish and an instructive feature that would be hard to emulate by any one.

Battis stands alone in this country as an impersonator of Dickens' characters who has devoted his whole time and talent to this work only, and who has succeeded in catching the spirit of the author in the spoken word and a faithful portrait of the individual by the use of clever "make-up" and marvelous facial transformation.

Charles Dickens was not only one of the most versatile of authors, but also one of the most human of authors. His characters seem to approach more closely to the reader or the student than do those of most writers. Besides being a most minute student of character his exposition of the popular wrongs of his day were most powerful. The description of the terrible outrages perpetrated upon the defenseless pupils in the so called boarding schools, as related in the account of "Dotheboy's Hall" in Nicholas Nickleby, awoke all England to the nature of many of these institutions and a parliamentary inquiry was at once instituted, with the result that hundreds of private schools were abolished. In his celebrated satire, "Jarndyce and Jarndyce," the vexatious delays and dilatory tactics of the courts of England were held up to ridicule, resulting in a speedy correction of the abuses. His descriptions of the poorer quarters of London, of the desperate poverty and the savage criminality of many of the inhabitants of the poorer portions of London are surpassed by but one author, Eugene Sue.

The Home Furnisher

A new opera by Arthur Nevins, to be produced by the Metropolitan Opera company next year, is called "Twilight." Ruth St. Denis is to become a dramatic star next season in a play to be written for her by the author of "The Rose of the Rancho."

PRETTIEST THING In My Home is a Macey Book Cabinet

To set one of the new Macey Book Cabinets in your home is to set before your children an example of such good taste that throughout all the days of their lives they will feel its refining influence.

Macey Book Cabinets are the first sectional bookcases ever built after the designs of the old masters. These old masters, Sheraton, Chippendale, Robert Adam and Fra Junipero, were as great in Furniture as Shakespeare in Literature, as Mozart in Music, as Michael Angelo in Painting.

The new Macey Book Cabinets are the only sectional bookcases that can be added to, both upward and sideways, and still not look like sectional bookcases, but like heirlooms of furniture. Can be taken from or rearranged without destroying their beauty and style.

So artful is the cabinet work that dealers frequently have to take them apart to convince customers that they are sectional.

Macey old master designs harmonize with any furniture you now have, and are made in such variety of popular prices, sizes, woods and finishes, that they fit any requirement of space or purse.

Macey Sectional Book Cabinets are built under the direction of Mr. O. H. L. Wernicke, the father of sectional bookcases and President of The Macey Company. Mr. Wernicke's name is still used in the corporate title of a competing firm, with which he has long since had no connection.

If you wish to give your home and your children the most inspiring influence you ever gave them, you will go to a furniture store and see these new Macey Book Cabinets before you forget it.
