CAMPERS ARE NUMEROUS

FREE SUNDAY HIGHLY ENJOYED YESTERDAY.

Riverside Park Filled as Never Before With Campers Sunday.

NEWS HUNGRY APPEARED

The news hungry crowd of campers enjoyed and appreciated the daily arrival of the Observer which sends its first copies to the grounds by a special courier.

Yesterday was the greatest day the Riverside park has seen. Early in the forenoon the people had begun to gather from all parts of the never-so-beautiful Grande Ronde.

From Union Street, north and east where they came in crowds. By the noon hour the cool pavilion was well filled and the Methodist church furnished a choir solo and sermon. The afternoon was spent in strolling, visiting, swimming, rowing and resting.

At 4 o'clock Judge Cochran, the factum factotum of the hour and the place, conducted a song service in which the hundreds sang with gusto the hymns and the songs of childhood days in the far away places of birth.

In the evening a well-filled auditorium listened to the eloquent words of life from Dr. Seemann of the Presbyterian church which furnished the chair for the time. Those who swarmed the cafeteria and who ate noon and evening lunches at the park reach into the hundreds.
