Thousands to Build Road.

Spokane, Wash., July 12.—Construction firms in Spokane holding the sub-let contracts to build 132 miles of a total of 162 miles of grade for the Canadian Northern Railway company announce they will have between six thousand and seven thousand men at work between Hope and Kamloops, B. C., within 45 days. The original contract which was awarded to Patrick Welsh of Spokane, involves a total expenditure of more than $15,000,000 and is to be completed in two years. The local builders are already assembling their outfits with a view to establishing camps at points along the survey before the beginning of August. The work is said to be the heaviest since the construction of the Canadian Pacific line through the Rockies and Selkirk. More than 80 miles of grade will be blown out of solid rock on the steep banks and narrow canyon along the Fraser river, and three miles of tunnel will be driven, two of them being from 2,000 to 2,200 feet in length. Most of these camps will be established along the line of the Canadian Pacific railroad.

Understanding.

In its wider acceptance understanding is the power of perceiving and conceiving, exclusive of the sensibility; the power of dealing with the impressions of sense and composing them into wholes, according to a law of unity, and in its most comprehensive meaning it includes even simple apprehension.—Coleridge.

England's Cream Ponies.

The famous cream ponies which are used to draw the king's carriage on state occasions are the sole survivors of a breed of horses which has otherwise passed out of existence. They are the direct and only pure bred descendants of the famous horses of Hanover, which George I. brought with him to his new English kingdom two centuries ago. The once famous white horses and black horses of Hanover have died out, and now the cream ponies alone survive, and only in England, for when Queen Victoria sent to Hanover about 1890 to procure fresh stock for the royal stud not one was to be found.—London Answers.

Reputation.

Reputation is one of the prizes for which men contend. It is, as Mr. Burke calls it, "the cheap defense and ornament of nations and the nurse of many exertions." It produces more labor and more talent than twice the wealth of a country could ever rear up. It is the coin of genius, and it is the imperative duty of every man to bestow it with the most scrupulous justice and the wisest economy.—Sydney Smith
