

INVEST PRINCE OF WALES.

Queen Victoria.

Edward I was the first king of England to create his eldest son Prince of Wales, with the object of reconciling the Welsh chieftains to English domination, after the death of Llewellyn, the last native ruler of Wales. But it was not until the reign of Edward III, that the latter raised the earldom of Cornwall into a dukedom, and bestowed it upon his son, Edward the Black Prince, with the provision that it should always be held by the heir apparent who was the son of the sovereign.

Hence it will be seen that, contrary to the popular impression, the dignity of prince of Wales, as borne by the British heir apparent, is older than that of the duke of Cornwall. The dignity of Prince of Wales carries with it no revenue, nor even prerogatives, and its holder sits in the house of lords, and is enabled to take part in its deliberations, not as the prince of Wales, but as the duke of Cornwall.

Prince Edward, who will be the central figure in tomorrow's elaborate ceremony, is a typical Anglo-Saxon lad. He was born June 23, 1904, and entered the Royal Naval college at the age of 13. With his brothers and sisters he has been brought up as much like other English children as possible. They have been subject to gentle but firm discipline and trained in industry and self reliance.

MISS DAVIS PROVES ABLE INSTRUCTOR IN COOKING

Domestic science classes at the chautauqua have proven of perhaps as great interest as any of the class or special feature attractions. Yesterday the students in this class were taught some excellent points about preparing meats—some of the so-called culinary artists of this city were taught simple points which they had never dreamed of. One day Miss Davis, the teacher in charge, teaches them how to prepare toothsome salads, then this and then that until as the time approaches for the last class, he students have come to look forward to the last day with regret.

Yesterday was an especially interesting day for the subject of meats was exceptionally well handled. Miss Davis is a past master at the art of cooking and many a notebook is bulging with simple little recipes or hints of great aid in preparing toothsome viands.

The afternoons from 1:30 to 3:00 o'clock are given over to this department and the gentlemen who happen to be about the grounds make it a point to become partners in the "tasting" game, which is enjoyed immensely by students and visitors alike. To those who are not members it might be interesting to join even for the remaining days.

From Corvallis Comes Praise.

From far away Corvallis comes a word of praise for Miss Davis. The following is of interest:

Editor Observer: While you are praising the big bugs of the chautauqua, please do not slight Miss Davis, the lecturer and domestic science teacher. Miss Davis taught domestic science and art in Corvallis high school last year quite successfully. The exhibit given, of sewing, at the end of the year was very good and brought forth much praise. Miss Davis is a graduate of the Oregon agricultural college, thoroughly competent, and an enthusiast in her work. She has a very pleasant personality, and those who do not attend the domestic science hour, are going to miss something very pleasant and instructive.

We of Corvallis urge our old friends in La Grande to attend, and also to make Miss Davis' acquaintance out of "hours," and see that she has a pleasant vacation in the queen city of the inland empire Mrs. Kittle G. Turner, 1460 Fifteenth and Van Buren, Corvallis, Ore."

SADLERS ARE NEXT NUMBERS

POPULAR PEOPLE COMING FOR TWO DAYS.

Two Days Will Hear and See Company Several Times.

Tomorrow and Friday the ever-popular Sadlers come to La Grande. They are so well known and so popular as a result of the lasting effects of their visit last year that the Observer and the chautauqua management need give little attention to exploiting them—their own work last year was of such a nature that should the doctor, Mrs. Sadler and Miss Willmer come to La Grande ten years from now they would be given the same warm greeting that they will receive tomorrow afternoon when they appear for the first time this year.

"The Woman of Samaria," will be the reading presented this year by the talented reader with the Sadler company. She read "The Sign of the Cross" last year with such splendid effect that she was considered one of the finest numbers of the program. This year she will be heard on Friday night. The program for the Sadler family is:

Thursday, July 13.

2:00—Lecture, "The Science of Living, or The Art of Keeping Well," Dr. Wm. S. Sadler.

4:00—Lecture and demonstration, "The Cause and Cure of Colds," Dr. Lena K. Sadler, assisted by the trained nurse.

8:00—Lecture, "The Physiology of Faith and Fear," or "The Mind in Health and Disease," Dr. Wm. S. Sadler.

Friday, July 14

Afternoon lecture—"How the Body Resists Disease," Dr. Wm. S. Sadler.

4:00—"Healthful and Beautiful Dress," (for women only). Dr. Lena K. Sadler.

8:15—Dramatic Reading, "La Samaritaine," (The Woman of Samaria.) Sarah Mildred Willmer.

The management of the assembly this year has this to say of the Sadlers:

"Dr. Sadler's company is presented for the second year at our chautauqua assembly. We were not able to secure them for three days as last year, being indeed extremely fortunate to be able to secure them at all. Dr. Sadler's company was the greatest attraction of our first assembly, and we offer no apologies in presenting this talented company during the season. We will attempt to secure them again next year.

"Dr. Sadler's company numbers four people, Wm. S. Sadler, M. D., Lena K. Sadler, M. D., Anna B. Kellogg, registered nurse and Miss Sarah Mildred Willmer, reader and entertainer. The programs presented by this company are varied and extremely interesting. Many of the lectures are of the demonstration-tableau order, illustrating in the most practical manner exactly the point that the lecturer desires to emphasize. Dr. Wm. S. Sadler lectures upon Popular Health subjects, alism and social life, and upon nature subjects, many of his lectures being illustrated with the stereopticon.

"This remarkable company have proved themselves capable of carrying on instruction of the highest order, while at the same time making it highly entertaining and exceedingly popular. They have an almost inexhaustible repertoire, frequently returning for a third and fourth year in succession to the same chautauqua, but they never repeat a lecture except by urgent request.

"They are in fact 'A whole chautauqua except the music.'"

BIG INCREASE IN BUSINESS

VOLUME OF BUSINESS DONE IS INCREASED IMMENSELY.

Fourteen Per Cent. Gain Over 1910 Is Seen in Final Figures.

Fourteen per cent increase in the volume of business done in the La Grande postoffice in the fiscal year ending June 30 as compared with the year before. The increase is so large that it continued will soon drive the La Grande postoffice into the top notch list, for few cities in the state can show an equal amount of business. The figures have been compiled by Postmaster G. M. Richey and Assistant Postmaster Landrum as follows.

For the quarter ending June 30, 1911, there was an increase of 9 per cent over the same quarter of the year previous. The figures read:

For quarter ending June 30, 1911, $4,125.81. For same quarter, 1910, $3,833.75. The increase is $292.06 or 9 per cent.

For the year ending June 30, 1911, $18,632.44 for year ending June 30, 1910, $16,392.80. The increase is $2,239.64 or 14 per cent.

AUTO RUN SUNDAY.

Many Machines Entered for the Interesting Sunday Excursion.

The run to the fish hatchery next Sunday to be participated in by members of the Union County Motor club will be largely attended in the belief of the directors who arranged the schedule. The machines, each carrying its own lunch, will leave indiscriminately, but are slated to arrive on or before noon so that the day can be made pleasant by a community lunch at the hatchery on the Wallowa river.

M. B. A. DRILL TEAM ENTERED

WILL COMPETE AT PENDLETON IN GRAND LODGE TOMORROW.

Delegations of Modern Brotherhood Leave for Pendleton.

La Grande is gaining prominence with lodge drill teams. The newest organization to enter the ranks of drill team competitors is the Modern Brotherhood of America which tomorrow morning sends a team of 12 ladies to Pendleton under the direction of Mrs. Mollie Buck as captain. The team will compete at the state grand lodge of that order there.

Delegates W. B. Sargent, J. A. Arbuckle and J. Beveridge left for Pendleton this morning and Mrs. Mollie Buck will also be a delegate when she arrives there with the drill team.

WILLIAMS TROUPE MAKES GOOD.

Italian Classics and Negro Song Lore Produced Beautifully.

Excerpts from "Lucia" from "Il Trovatore," and renditions of old familiar southern ballads were handled with equal perfection by the Williams Jubilee singers at the chautauqua last evening in the first of their two concerts here. The second will be given this evening. The troupe, often appearing before crowned heads of Europe, was greeted by the banner crowd of the chautauqua assembly this year, and it was an appreciative audience, too. Harmony, technique and the other, essential qualities of good music were mastered by voices of far more than ordinary sweetness. Be it negro ballad or Italian classic, the troupe is fully equal to the occasion and the round of applause that greeted the troupe as a whole at first, increasing as the program progressed and going out to the individuals as well when they appeared in solo work told the story of appreciation. The program tonight will be entirely changed and many of those who heard the singers last night anticipate going again. It is worth the while for no galaxy of musicians has presented a more entertaining program—other troupes may have given more grand opera selections with equal skill, but never, in recent years, anyway, has there been a program so well understood and appreciated by tutored and untutored audiences. The manner in which the singers scintillated from camp meeting hallelujah to Italian master pieces gives them is really wonderful.
