WAGON REACHES THE BIG LAKES

FIRST TIME THAT LAKE AT RIVER HEAD HAS BEEN REACHED.

Local Fishermen Return, Having Reached Coveted Goal

For the first time in history a wagon and team has touched the Grande Ronde lakes. Last night C. S. Dunn, Mac Wood, W. J. Church and L. M. Hoyt returned from a fishing trip that took them two miles farther into the interior than any team had ever penetrated before. Last Spring W. J. Church, J. J. Carr, Will Seigrist and others got within two miles of the lake but the snow was too deep to allow the team to actually reach the coveted spot. At that time Joe Woods, the former liveryman here, drove the four horse team, and he was again master of the ribbons. This time he was able to touch the shore of the lake with his span and wagon, after a trail had been hewn through the timber. The men got plenty of fish and enjoyed a delightful outing.

Windows of the Soul.

Eyes are bold as lions, roving, running, leaping, here and there, far and near. They speak all languages; they wait for no introduction; they are no Englishmen; ask no leave of age or rank; they respect neither poverty nor riches, neither learning nor power, nor virtue, nor sex, but intrude, and come again, and go through and through you in a moment of time. What inundation of life and thought is discharged from one soul into another through them!—Emerson.

Remarkable Case.

"How much your little boy resembles your husband!" said the cunning politician.
"I've always heard," she replied, "that people grow to look like those they are much with, but this is quite a remarkable case. We only adopted the little fellow last week."

HAIR CURLING STARTS BLAZE

ENTERPRISE COTTAGE IS BURNED DOWN SUNDAY.

Len Emmons' Home Destroyed by Fire Started by Curling of Hair.

Enterprise, Ore., July 18.—(Special)—The curling of several young ladies' hair to attend a baseball game is said to have been the cause of a fire Sunday afternoon that destroyed the residence of Len Emmons.

According to rumor the young ladies were preparing to attend the Elgin-Enterprise ball game and used a lamp to heat the curling iron. Leaving the lighted lamp it is presumed an explosion occurred.

The fire department responded to the call but it was too late to save the home. The building was a neat little cottage. The house and contents were insured for $1,500.

FLORA CATTLE HIGH PRICED

RANCHERS THERE REALIZE GOOD PROFITS FOR SALES.

Buyers All Get Good Stock From Walla Walla County, They Say.

Flora, Ore., July 18.—(Special)—That Walla Walla county cattlemen are getting in some nice money at present for cattle is evidenced by the presence of J. C. Chandler, a buyer of La Grande, and W. L. Walker, representing a Portland firm. Each buyer has been after large shipments and the price paid for Walla Walla cattle is larger this summer than has been paid for years. Mr. Chandler has shipped several carloads from the county the past few days.

bled them white.

The Treatment in Fever Cases Till Quinine Wrought a Change.

In 1832, when the French were conducting a campaign of conquest in Algeria, the mortality among the troops and colonists there was frightful. France was being continually called upon for fresh levies of men and youths to supply this terrible loss, chiefly from fever incidental to the climate.

At that time the practice of bleeding still prevailed. "Bleed them till they are white" was the injunction which Broussais, the head physician of the French, gave to his followers when the condition of the soldiers was reported to him.

At Bone in one year out of an effective force of 5,500 men, 1,100 died of illness in the hospital. Most of them had been "bled to the white."

At this time the effects of sulphate of quinine were known, but few physicians ventured to employ it. One, Maillot, had interested himself in the new remedy and, going to Bone in the medical service of the government, he resolved to see if it would not reduce the frightful mortality, which was one to every three and one-half men who entered the hospital.

At first he employed the quinine merely as an adjunct to the bleeding. He soon found that bleeding was killing the men and that quinine was saving them. Little by little he left off bleeding, to the great scandal of the medical profession.

Exactly in proportion as the bleeding ceased the deaths in the hospital decreased. In two years the deaths fell off from one in three and a half of all who entered the hospital to one in twenty and finally to one in forty-six.

Maillot, quite naturally enough, became an earnest opponent of bleeding, but he was so actively resisted and so ceaselessly vilified that he became embittered toward his colleagues.

Nearly thirty years passed before Maillot saw the complete triumph of his ideas. Doctors continued to bleed their patients heartily for all manner of ills. But in 1860 Maillot was made commander of the Legion of Honor and chief of the medical staff of the French army and his influence, with others, in bringing about a virtual revolution in the practice of medicine was fully recognized.—Harper's Weekly.

that cannot be measured alone in dollars and cents. There's satisfaction in knowing you have a home when possibly all other investments fail—it gives you a feeling of security and demands the recognition of your fellow townsmen, because by building you show your faith in the future of the community. And every community is known by its deeds. You can help and at the same time help yourself. A home investment is always the most meritorious, and loss is less likely because you are dealing in values you understand and with people you know. We have supplied the lumber for the homes of many of your friends who are now on the road to success, and want to talk with you whenever you're ready.
