COVE PEOPLE AS HOSTS.

The Cherry show at Cove is now a matter of history, but it is pleasant history for it was a great success.

Union will have her horse show, Elgin her apple show and Cove her cherry show each year and in each event the people of the valley will gather to see the exhibits and get better acquainted.

BOYS AND GUNS.

Why parents will not insist on their children keeping away from guns is more than can be understood.

If parents do not take a deeper interest in this matter, the law will and if some boy is arrested and fined for carrying a gun we want to serve notice that his name will not be kept out of the Observer.

This agitation is begun in order to avert some further accident that will be even more expensive than the loss of a valuable mare and colt.

The sentiment of a community counts for much. An easy money chap with a sure thing game came to La Grande Tuesday on his way to Cove.

PASTEUR.

"A Study in Greatness" is the subtitle of a brief sketch of the career of Pasteur, by Prof. F. W. Martin. In the spirit of Carlyle, Martin shows the origin of the racial concept of greatness, and having discovered a fundamental similarity in the works ranked as great, he offers as a hypothesis this interpretation: They all relate to the heroic.
