FIRST VETO IS RECORDED

COUNCIL SUSTAINS OBJECTION OF THE EXECUTIVE

Great Many Matters of Interest Were Before Council Last Night.

Mayor A. L. Richardson swung his first veto axe last night and was sustained by the council when he vetoed the ordinance creating the office of assistant city engineer. The ordinance was passed originally but the executive attached his official objection and last night at a regular meeting of the council when every councilman recorder and city attorney were present, his veto was sustained. Another important matter coming to the attention of the council last evening was a petition from the Blue Mountain grange asking that the city provide hitching racks and posts. The petition was presented by Councilman Logsdon and will be acted upon at once. It has been pointed out that this is a very desirable step for the city to take as the farmers have no suitable facilities for hitching their teams when they come to the city. The few racks that exist are entirely inadequate, it is said, and as the farmers cannot hitch their horses on the paved streets they must go to the side thoroughfares and as a consequence the few hitching racks become congested on Saturdays and other days when there are many farmers in the city.

A large amount of routine matter was transacted, commencing with the allowance of the regular budget of bills.

A motion to discontinue the pound fund was carried and the money of that department will go to general fund channels.

The ways and means committee was empowered to take charge of the sale of the city scales to the Fowler firm.

The trustees of the Presbyterian church petitioned the council, setting forth at some length the reasons and causes for the prayer, to have the cost and assessments for paving on Washington and Sixth streets reduced to $1,500 from the present reading of $2,300. The matter was referred to the proper committee.

J. F. O'Connell requested by petition that he be refunded certain sums of money which he considers due him because his license was not granted until some time after he paid his license fee. This was referred.

V. E. Bean asked permission to relay pieces of pipe in the overflow channel from the reservoir as the water was doing damage to his lawn and was dangerous to his stock.

The Honeyman-Hardware company of Portland informed the council by letter that it would not handle warrants on the general fund because it took too long to redeem them. It was pointed out that other wholesale firms did the waiting and did not complain. The letter was referred.

Police Pay Established.

Salaries for special police was fixed by resolution to be $2.50 per day of ten hours.

The La Grande irrigation contract for rights of way for flume was read by the recorder and occasioned considerable discussion pro and con.

Dr. O'Connor appeared before the council relative to the extensive street improvements to be enacted on Connerdale streets. Bids will be advertised for at once.

Bids for construction of board walks on S street will be asked for at once.

North Fir macadam work will be dropped in accordance with a committee report urging such action, which was adopted.

Sidewalks at various places on Second, Third and Fourth will be built soon according to action taken by the council last night.

A resolution dealing with the shade tree question was introduced and read.

merical club, expects to hear from him in about 10 days or as soon as he returns from a trip to Europe.

If he cannot be secured to assist in the Astoria program, prominent business men of the state will co-operate with the club to secure his attendance at the convention of the Central Oregon Development league, at Burns, on October 2-3. The intention is to give him an opportunity to get acquainted with those parts of the state needing railroad extension, and enlist his interest to secure better railroad facilities for districts east of the Cascade mountains.

Sprains need careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.
