Here's the word of a person who took our "I have been using Parisian Sage about a year. When I began using it I had only a slight 'fuzz' on my head. Now I have a good thick growth, and it is growing thicker and longer right along. Many people don't believe it can be done, but I know from my own experience with Parisian Sage that it can; I can recommend it in the fullest confidence." — Gaius Brown, 708 North Filmore St., Maryville, Mo.

COLLIER FINDS ROAD MATERIAL

SAND, PETROLEUM AND CRUSHED ROCK ESSENTIALS.

Product of These "Ingredients" Said to be the Very Best.

Eastern road makers are placing a great deal of confidence in a new sort of road making material, and John Collier, manager of the people's store here, and an influential Commercial club man, who is now sojourning in Chicago, writes to friends here of the new material. Among other things Mr. Collier incloses clippings from the Chicago Record-Herald, written by the nationally known William E. Curtis. The article, describing the road making material, is written under a Providence, Mass., date line, special to the Herald. It follows in part:

There is a splendid automobile road all the way from Boston to Provincetown. It was built by the state chiefly for the benefit of automobilists. It is smooth and hard, with a foundation of crushed rock 18 inches deep, covered with a mixture of fine sand and crude petroleum which packs down and becomes as elastic as rubber.

An immense quantity of petroleum has been used on the New England highways and it is a great success. It sheds the rain like a rubber coat and is practically dustless. The highway commissioners of all the New England states consider it the best surfacing material when mixed with sand and crushed rock that has ever been found.

It is the perfection of the method devised by MacAdam, the Scotch engineer, more than a hundred years ago, which has been the basis of all modern road building. Tar and asphalt have been used to some extent, but crude petroleum is superior to either.

The Massachusetts highway commissioners, after employing every test, are of the opinion that this mixture is the best that they have ever tried to withstand the weather, the automobile traffic, the hoofs of horses and steel-shod wheels.

PRUNE SURVEY WILL BE MADE

O. A. C. EXPERT TO EXAMINE INDUSTRY MINUTELY.

Will Spend Several Days in the Community Inspecting Prune Crop

Survey of the prune industry in the Grande Ronde valley from every angle of viewpoint, will be commenced tomorrow when F. R. Brown, working for the Oregon Agricultural college, comes here for an extended stay to complete the survey. The purpose of the visit is best told by Mr. Brown himself, in letters to local people:

"I expect to be in the vicinity of your city for about three or four days for the purpose of making a prune survey. During that time I hope to visit all the prune orchards in that valley and obtain very complete notes on the age of the trees, the cultivation pruning and spraying, in fact, everything that is connected with the prune industry. This is to be used as a basis from which we can work on some of the problems that confront the grower."

"This work was made possible through the 'Crop and Fruit Pest' bill which was passed by the last legislature. We are at present considering several problems among which are 'prune drip,' 'little prune,' 'winter kill,' 'fruit spot,' and 'orchard heating.'" the bid of the said L. P. Ostlund, for the same, now on file in the office of the recorder of said city and which has been heretofore accepted.

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval by the mayor and publication in one issue of the La Grande Evening Observer.

Passed the common council on the 16th day of August, 1911, by seven councilmen voting therefor.

Approved by the mayor on this the 17th day of August, 1911.

A. L. RICHARDSON,
Mayor.
