DRY FARMING SAVED CROPS

COLORADO SPRINGS MAN SHOWS GOOD SUCCESS.

By Keeping Moisture in Ground, He Attains Fine Crops.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 22.—(Special)—Farmers of the United States needlessly threw away 8,896,000 bushels of winter wheat this year, not to mention an enormous loss in other farm products, simply because they failed to prepare against drought by taking steps to keep moisture in the soil. This is the declaration of Secretary John T. Burns of the International Dry-Farming congress, who is now preparing to conduct the Sixth congress, which meets in this city next October.

Mr. Burns had just read the report of the United States department of agriculture for August, showing that loss under the 1911 crops. Before him lay a sheaf of wheat raised by J. M. Bradshaw of Peyton, Colo., who has just threshed an average of 20 bushels per acre from 100 acres, some patches in which ran as high as 57 bushels. On the Bradshaw land only four inches of moisture fell from the time this wheat was planted, September 2, to the day it was cut, July 15, and there is not a live stream in 25 miles. This land was summer tilled, that is carefully cultivated, and the weeds kept down the summer before it was planted. This is one of the tenets of scientific dry farming as it is taught by the congress. It is applicable to every part of the land, says Mr. Burns. The average of all wheat in the United States according to the government is only 14.5 bushels, and the quality is 92 as against 92.6 last year. So there is nothing wrong with the 1911 wheat but lack of moisture. "Every farmer in the land could have done as Mr. Bradshaw did with his little four inches of rainfall, had he been intelligent enough to study dry farming methods and willing to do the necessary work," declares Mr. Burns. "Some day they will prepare to meet drought as they do all other adverse phenomena of nature, and overcome it, too."

Exposition Architecture.

It might seem as if all the changes had been rung on exposition architecture—the domes, pinnacles, minarets, towers and belfries of past show palaces. But San Diego has found a new style for this purpose, and one particularly appropriate and pleasing because it is the one which the Mission fathers introduced into the new world. San Diego will use an adaptation of this, called by the architects the Mission Renaissance. All of the buildings will be in this style, and all of them will be permanent, and will remain in Balboa park for the benefit of future generations.

BIRDMAN AT ASTORIA TODAY

MANY IMPORTANT DAYS FOR SPECIAL FEATURES.

Motor to Bring Portland Delegation to Astoria.

Astoria, Ore., Aug. 23.—(Special)—One of the big days scheduled for the coming week at the Astoria Centennial celebration will be Astor Day, when special ceremonies in honor of John Jacob Astor, the founder of the city will take place. Every person attending the exercises on that day will receive an aster as a floral tribute to the memory of the man who outfitted the expedition which laid the cornerstone of the thriving city at the mouth of the Columbia. John Jacob Astor, the grandson of the pioneer and the present head of the family has been specially invited to be present on August 28th, when "Astor Day" will be celebrated.

August 29 will be a banner day at the Astor Centennial when the natives of the countries of the Scandinavian peninsula will participate in a special program which has been arranged for their benefit. Members of the Swedish and Norwegian societies of the northwest have signified their intention of being present in numbers and an extra large attendance is anticipated.

Shriners' Day Saturday.

The Astoria Centennial committee has set aside Saturday, August 26th, as "Shriners' Day." The fishing season closes here on Friday, the 25th inst., and a great feature of Shriners' Day will be a monster parade of 7,000 fishermen, dressed in their fishing clothes who will parade with special floats showing their boats together with their nets and all the paraphernalia they use in their fishing work.

Fraternity Day Soon.

One of the big, big days of the great Centennial will be "Fraternal Day," on Saturday, September 2nd. Invitations have been issued to all the fraternal lodges on the Pacific coast and responses received by General Manager A. A. Tremp indicate a great attendance.

Handsome trophies, of the value of $750, have been offered for the largest attendance of fraternal organizations.

Big Society Ball Tonight.

"Queen Gertrude" (Miss Margaret Gertrude Upshur), the queen of Astoria's Centennial, will tender a ball, in the auditorium here on the night of the 23rd, to the officers of the army and navy here. The ball will be by invitation only. The elite of the Pacific coast and northwest will attend and it is expected that it will be the most exclusive and greatest social event ever held in the northwest. Guests of honor will be Governor West of Oregon and Governor Hay of Washington.

Chief Mechanician Will J. Shackelford, of the Glen Curtiss staff, arrived here yesterday with two flying machines which Aviator Hugh A. Robinson will use in his flights commencing on Wednesday. A feature of Robinson's flights will be an air voyage to Portland to escort the Portland and northwestern newspaper delegation to Astoria when they come on their special train on Portland day on the 25th. Robinson will also strive for an altitude record and has promised General Manager A. A. Tremp to take pictures of the Centennial from the highest point he reaches.

STARKEY CROPS SET RECORDS

THIRTY BUSHELS OF WHEAT TO ACRE ON MOUNTAIN LAND.

Personal Mention and News Items From Up-River Town.

Starkey, Aug. 23.—(Special)—We are having lovely weather but frosty nights.

The Starkey Needlecraft club organized by Mrs. John Aiden held its first anniversary on Thursday. Twenty-five were present. The president and other officers had given such good satisfaction that they were requested to hold their offices another year. After the business was concluded refreshments were served and everyone expressed himself as having had a good time.

Mrs. Jay Robinson and Mrs. Ray Ridwell visited the club.

Mrs. Louis Henson and children of Tacoma are visiting sisters, in La Grande and Cove.

Mountain View ranch cut about 80 tons of hay this year and are now doing their fall plowing.

Press Burnett and daughter Nellie made a trip to La Grande in search of fruit this week but found it scarce.

The Starkey store is kept busy supplying the ranchers and sheep camps. Mr. and Mrs. Brown and children of Salt Lake City, Utah, are visiting his uncle, John Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Cochran have returned to their home in Salem, Oregon, after a pleasant visit with his mother, Mrs. Kate Burnett.

Mrs. Andy Sullivan has returned from a business trip to La Grande.

The school board are busy fixing up the school house and getting ready for the fall term of school. Warren Burnett has a contract to supply the year's wood.

Miss Edith Burnett has returned from Pendleton.

M. L. Foster, Mrs. Glenn and her daughter of Pilot Rock, and Miss Katharine of Pendleton have returned to their homes. They have been at the mines several weeks on the upper Grande Ronde.

Pat Doherty, a Butter Creek sheep man, passed here today with 1,500 mutton sheep which will be shipped to the Tacoma markets by H. E. King.

Haying is about over and grain is being cut. The crops are exceptionally good this season. Some of the farmers think their wheat will make 30 bushels per acre which is good for the mountains.

J. B. Hagey is in La Grande today on business.

Ralph Sullivan is hauling freight for the Starkey store this week.

Ike Bogard, a prominent cattleman of the John Day country, was en route to La Grande on land business last week.

Miss Urupa Coombs went to La Grande to visit this week with Mrs. Elizabeth Green.

L. E. Tipton, one of our forest rangers, passed here on his way to his home in Kamela yesterday.

R. M. Farthy and J. J. Conley have returned from the sheep ranch, having spent 10 days in the mountains rustling.

TO AILING WOMEN.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in La Grande.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the urine when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. This is the true cause of many bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Urlic poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills. You will get better as the kidneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a fellow sufferer tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. A. A. Couze, Ureka Street, Sumpter, Oregon, says: "Two years ago I first learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and at that time found them very beneficial. I had a dull backache and pain through my left hip and joints were stiff. Dizzy spells annoyed me and the least exertion caused me to become all tired out. The use of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills did me a world of good and since then, I have been in much better health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
