

PASSENGERS WALK IN.

Train Stalled at Fir Street Yesterday Afternoon by Derailment.

Because a carload of pipe was derailed near the North Fir street crossing yesterday afternoon passengers on the incoming Joseph train had to walk to town, or wait until the track was clear. Most of them preferred to walk and amble through the dust and cinders to the depot platform. The derailment was finally righted and traffic resumed.

Henry W. Savage has brought with him from Europe the manuscripts of "Beron Good for Nothing," a comedy success from Berlin by Heinrich Schrottenbach; "The Lieutenant's Ward," another Berlin comedy hit, by Leo Walther Stein, and "The Summer's Polly," a German comedy on the lines of "Old Heidelberg." He also has the rights to "Weeping Josephine" by Julius Engle.

NORTH POWDER JAIL BURNED

ORIGIN MYSTERIOUS AND LOSS IS COMPLETE.

Other News Items From North Powder and Its People.

North Powder, Aug. 25.—(Special)—The North Powder jail was destroyed by fire last night. No one seems to know how the blaze originated and when it was discovered it had gotten beyond the power of the local firemen to put out. A new jail will be built of concrete in the near future.

"Smoke" Takes to Advertising.
London, Aug. 25.—As an advertising stunt, preparatory for his fight with Bombardier Wells, Jack Johnson started on a motor trip to Paris last night. Many English experts expect Wells to make a real try for the championship. Johnson says Wells "maybe" is a good 2 to 1 bet, but nothing better.

PANAMA HOTEL TO BE LARGE

"WASHINGTON" WILL BE NAME OF NEW HOSTLERY.

Will be Placed on Slightly Lower Location on Bay.—Cost $500,000.

Washington, Aug. 25.—(Special)—Everything is easy for Uncle Sam and nowhere is this demonstrated more forcibly than in the Panama Canal zone.

It is now announced that the Panama railroad, which is owned by the United States through the War Department, and which in turn owns about everything along the big ditch, from laundry to lodgings, is to build a magnificent hotel at Colon. This will be in addition to the Hotel Tivoli, now maintained at Ancon.

The new hotel is to be called the Washington and is to cost not more than $500,000. It will be situated on Colon beach, close to the water front with a fine outlook on Limon Bay. In the rear on the city side it will face a large park, which is to be enlarged and beautified during the construction of the hotel. On the ocean side, improvements are to be made which will add to the beauty of the outlook and the convenience of the hotel guests. Among the latter will be an innovation in the form of a salt water swimming pool which will be open to the sea, though protected from the wind and waves and stormy weather. A bathing beach will be provided in addition to the pool, and a strong sea wall is already in course of construction.

The hotel building will be 300 feet long and will be constructed almost entirely of concrete. Woodwork will be reduced to a minimum. In the kitchens for the three dining rooms will be installed every known device for convenience, speed in serving the guests, and cleanliness. On the first floor will be a large reception, smoking and lounging rooms, and ballroom. On the second and third will be 38 bedrooms, so constructed as to be available for use as suites of as high as fifteen rooms. Shower baths will be the feature of most of the rooms.

In fact the new hotel promises to furnish accommodations for visitors or residents in the canal zone equal, is not superior to anything obtainable in the states, with picturesque features unsurpassed even by those of Northern resorts.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The march of civilization which has resulted in the introduction of cigars and cigarettes into the mouths of Chinese people has also had the effect of making them acquainted with another Occidental luxury—chewing gum.

While gum was formerly unknown to the Chinese, recent reports from Hong Kong state that one native firm there sold more than $5000 worth during the
