MUST REPLEVIN HIS HORSE

M. H. KIRTLEY LEAVES TONIGHT TO RECOVER HIS PROPERTY.

Stolen Horse Was Located by Sheriff Childers at Weiser.

Although M. H. Kirtley made the liveryman at Weiser who purchased a horse stolen from Mr. Kirtley, a very fair offer on a settlement that party has refused and now Mr. Kirtley will replevin his property. He leaves this evening with his attorney for Weiser.

The horse was stolen from Kirtley in La Grande and driven to Weiser where it, with saddle and bridle, was sold to a liveryman for $50. Sheriff Childers, when the theft was reported, immediately used all his efforts to locate the horse which he did. The thief had ample time to get away and he has not yet been apprehended. When the sheriff reported the horse was in possession of an innocent buyer at Weiser Mr. Kirtley wanted to do the fair thing and made the man an offer to let him keep the animal at a reasonable price, inasmuch as the liveryman had been swindled on the purchase. But the Weiser man refused to take the offer and now the process of replevin must be followed out.

DRINKING CUPS GO TOMORROW

LOCAL DEPOT WATER TANK TO BE LEFT.

Cups Taken Away From Every Public Drinking Place Tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning the drinking cups in the O.-W. depot will be removed and the city must tear away the drinking cup on the city fountain and all other public places and drinking arrangements must throw away the cups. Passenger trains will throw away the cups attached to the fountains in coaches and so on down the entire list of public drinking accommodations for the anti-drinking cup law becomes effective tomorrow morning.

In the local depot the cup will be removed but the water tank will be kept supplied with water and private cups alone will have to be used. Travelers will have to provide themselves with drinking cups throughout the state hereafter.

DEATHS FOLLOW WITH RAPIDITY

BAKER SCENE OF ACCIDENTS AND MURDERS.

Last Fatal Accident Marked by Strange Actions of Pet Dog.

A long string of suicides, murders, accidental drownings and various means of death has marked Baker's history the past two or three weeks. Yesterday morning a man accidentally drowned at Baker and yesterday afternoon another man was accidentally killed. Speaking of the last named incident the Baker Herald says:

W. W. Cornwell, breaker of recalcitrant bronchos, who had the contract to sprinkle the streets of Baker, met his death this forenoon shortly before 9 o'clock by being run over by the city sprinkling wagon.

Death was almost immediate and the popular and well known driver of the sprinkling wagon remained in the position in which he was killed until the "dead wagon" of Undertaker West took him away. He had stopped to recharge the wagon and the splash made by the water excited the horses and started them on the run on Resort street. The team ran along Resort, and turned the corner of Valley and started along that street when Cornwell fell and the wheels of the wagon passed over his chest, death being almost instantaneous. The cause of the accident was the breaking of the bridle, thus throwing Cornwell under the wagon.

A crowd quickly gathered after the accident, and much comment was aroused by the conduct of a dog belonging to Will Bennett. The pup curled up on the body of the dead man and for a time refused to permit anybody to approach the body. A few days ago Mr. Cornwell had fed the dog and since that time he refused to have anything to do with his master. When the hearse arrived the dog took a sudden hike and disappeared and the calls of his master were unheeded.

Cornwell was universally beloved and his multitude of friends are in mourning today. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World and it is probable that that order will have charge of the funeral.

Cornwell was within a few days of 60 years old, his 60th birthday would have fallen on October 4th. He was noted for his happy disposition and was called "dad" by everyone. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Eva Cook and Alpha Roberts, and a son, Frank, who is a rancher in Eagle valley. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

COAL TRADE OF PACIFIC COAST

Figures Compiled by United States Geological Survey.

Washington, Aug. 31.—(Special)—The fuel requirements of the Pacific coast and the methods of meeting them are of special interest at the present time because of the agitation in regard to the development or non-development of the coal resources of Alaska. The report on the production of coal in 1910, by E. W. Parker, coal statistician of the United States geological survey, now in preparation, will contain some interesting statements on this subject.

The present consumption of coal on the Pacific coast, says Mr. Parker, is of any coal mines in Alaska will denote large and the successful operation depend on naming prices attractive to the development of manufacturing industries. For railroad and manufacturing purposes the consumption of oil, particularly in California, largely exceeds that of coal—in fact, for railroad use oil is practically the only fuel. The principal domestic fuels are woods and gas made from oil. Recently oil itself has assumed importance as a domestic fuel. About 15,000,000 barrels of California oil were consumed by locomotives in 1909, as against a little over 18,000,000 barrels for 1910. The total consumption of fuel oil was probably between 25,000,000 and 40,000,000 barrels in 1909 and between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 barrels in 1910. The probability is that the consumption of fuel oil displaced

Pay By Check

If you have a checking account, the bank does your bookkeeping free of charge and renders you a statement of your receipts and expenditures whenever you ask for it.

Your cancelled checks are receipts for the bills you have paid. You need never pay a bill twice if you pay by check. The check is positive proof that you paid the money.

You cannot be robbed if you carry a check book instead of the actual money. You cannot lose your money by carelessness or fire if you keep it in the bank and pay by check.

If you have a check book in your pocket you always have the "right change," for you can make out a check for any odd amount. If you pay by check, people will see that you have a bank account and your credit will be greatly improved.

If you have a checking account at the bank, you will be given special consideration should you wish to borrow money.

Your money in the bank keeps the mills running, employs labor, and makes good and prosperous times for all.

If you have a checking account, you need not send money through the mails. You can send your check. If the check is lost your money is still safe in the bank.

If a check is stolen or forged, you do not lose anything. The bank is liable for forged checks if it pays them.

All check books, bank books, etc., are free and it costs you absolutely nothing to have a bank account.

If you have a checking account at the bank, you will always feel free to ask your banker for advice or for a recommendation. He will be glad to furnish either.

Nine-tenths of the business of the world is done by checks. Why not do yours that way?

The officers of this bank are at your service. They invite you to make this bank your business home.

UNITED STATES NATIONAL BANK

about 10,000,000 tons of coal on the Pacific coast in 1909 and between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000 tons in 1910. The per capita consumption of coal in California, Oregon and Washington averages not much over one ton, while the average consumption in the United States as a whole is about 5 1/2 tons for each inhabitant.

The principal source of coal supply for the Pacific coast is the state of Washington, the output of both California and Oregon being at present small. In 1909 the total production of coal in Washington was 3,602,263 short tons. California produced 45,000 tons and Oregon 37,276 tons. In 1910 the production of coal on the Pacific coast was 3,903,983 short tons in Washington, 62,707 tons in Oregon and 11,164 tons in California. The imports of bituminous coal amounted to 752,046 tons, and of anthracite to 9,116 tons. The exports of coal from Seattle were 26,883 tons in 1909 and 23,771 tons in 1910. The total consumption of coal on the Pacific coast from various sources in 1909 was 4,576,052 short tons and in 1910 4,812,398 tons. The imports of coke to Pacific coast ports (exclusive of Hawaii), as reported by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, were 111,676 short tons in 1909 and 114,061 tons in 1910.

Including 761 short tons of coal sent from Puget Sound to Bering Sea, the total quantity of coal shipped into Alaska in 1910 was 98,240 short tons, of which 8,178 tons went from British Columbia, and 15,877 tons from Washington. The production within the territory was reported at 1,000 tons, or about 1 per cent of the total consumption.

Mother Fears for Daughter.

San Francisco, Aug. 31.—Fearing Pearl Adams who disappeared from her home here last January, is being detained in Spokane against her will, Mrs. Evans, her aunt, today asked the police to ascertain under what conditions the girl is living in Spokane. At the time she disappeared Arthur J. Young, a soda water clerk, also left.

SUSPECT CAN'T BE CINCHED

OFFICIALS FIND IT NECESSARY TO DROP CHARGES.

After Being Quizzed for Several Days, Fair Prove Mum.

John Smith, probably an alias assumed by the man suspected of white slavery and held in the county jail several days at the same time that a girl known as Brown was held in the city jail, this afternoon pleaded guilty to a charge of immoral conduct before Judge Humphrey in police court. He was paroled.

The original suspicions are still firmly imbedded in the minds of the officials but no convicting evidence can be obtained. Both have been sweated and cross questioned hour after hour but steadfastly refused to admit any tangible point that would lead to their conviction. The girl will also be allowed to leave town tonight, likely.
