STATE'S CASE THAT SHOOTING FOLLOWED HALT, JARRED

Defense Scores Another Decisive Victory Today in Evidence Presented by Wealthy Butcher Who Was Silent Fearing Domestic Troubles—Had Been Riding on Midlothian Pike That Night.

Chesterfield, Sept. 2.—Charles Kastelberg, a rich meat dealer of Richmond today gave strong support to Henry Beattie's story of the killing of his wife. Kastelberg admitted he was driving his machine along the pike with a woman on the night of the murder. He stopped near the scene of the subsequent crime and refilled his radiator. This is expected to require the testimony that Beattie's auto had stopped before Mrs. Beattie was killed. He said he did not know the name of the woman with him and had never told the story before fearing domestic trouble with his own wife, whom he had kept in ignorance of the ride.

He did not break any details of his story on cross examination.

Eliza Mosely, an old negro, testified she heard both the shots and the auto horn blow, from her home nearby.

W. H. H. Sampson, a personal friend of Beattie, testified that Beattie broke off his relations with Beulah after he married.

The presiding judge received an unsigned letter today saying he would be shot if he sentenced Beattie to the electric chair.

OREGON IS MUCH SOUGHT

MR. COLLIER FINDS BUSINESS CONDITIONS GOOD.

Countless Thousands Will Visit Eastern Land Shows This Year.

Eastern people are looking anxiously toward Oregon and the string of immigrants this fall will be fully as large, or larger, than that of previous records, vouchsafes John Collier, a prominent commercial club member and business man of this city who returned this morning from a business trip to New York and middle western cities. Business conditions throughout the money centers are reported in fairly good shape though not as elastic and plant as on his last trip to the east.

While there is some little skepticism about the marvelous fruit crop and fruit land prices reaching ears of the easterners they are nevertheless hungry for news of the western states—especially Oregon—and Mr. Collier was called upon time and time again to deny or corroborate the stories of wonders from Oregon. The land shows at Omaha and Pittsburg and Chicago will be splendid places to advertise, thinks Mr. Collier for countless thousands visit these land shows and there learn much first hand information about the west.

While away Mr. Collier had no opportunity to study commission forms of government to any extent for the cities in which he visited had either only just commenced the commission regime or else were still under the old system of government.
