head bay today. Included in the string were Fitz Herbert, the fastest horse in America for four seasons; Novelty, the winner of last year's Futurity; King James, a noted handicap winner; Zeus, Firestone, Royal Meteor and a number of other horses whose are familiar to every patron of the turf. The prominence of the thoroughbreds to be disposed of led to marked interest in the occasion and a number of well known horsemen from various parts of the United States and Canada were present at the opening of the sale.

The Last Gladiators.

It was in A. D. 430 that the edict was passed which forever abolished the gladiatorial combats. In the desert of Lybia there lived a monk named Telemachus, who, touched by the cruel stories of the combats, went to Rome, leaped over the barrier of the arena of the Coliseum, threw himself between the groups of fighters and implored them in the name of Christ to desist. Telemachus fell slain by the swords of the gladiators, but there never was another fight in the Coliseum. The spirit of the monk had its effect, and the above mentioned edict was soon passed.

Another Trouble.

The trouble with most men is that they want to be at bat all the time and are never willing to do any fielding.—Chicago Record-Herald.
