> Important Event to Water Users in Powder Valley Is Finally Set.

Final adjudication of water rights in North Powder river, in a locality where riparian rights have long occupled the center of the stage, has been set for the middle of November, probably the 15th-by the sitting of the board of control at Salem last week at which Water Superintendent George T. Cochran was present. Waters in North Powder river have long been the subject of much dispute and it is expected that this hearing will be of far more importance to the users than anything that has yet been done in adjustment of water rights. ### COMIC OPERA COMING.

"Flower of the Ranch" Attracton at the Steward in a Few Days.

Presented by a company of some 40 people, "The Flower of the Ranch," west, will be the attraction at the Steward October 3. The work enjoyed an extended run in New York two years ago, playing at two different theatres, a sufficient guarantee of its worth. Joseph E. Howard, whose music contributed so materially to the success of "The Prince of Tonight," "The Time, the Place and the Girl," "The Goddess of Liberty," "The Honeymoon Trail," and half a dozen plays of recent vogue, is the author of and composer of "The Flower of the Ranch," and it is declared to be his best work. Of the 20 musical numbers, at least a dozen are participated in by the big chorus, and as Joseph E. Howard staged the production, it is Block to be presumed that the young women have much to do and of a decidedly diverting character. Howard knows how to get striking stage pictures, and his dancing numbers are a delight. Among the principal members of the company, which is the same as the original east, with exceptions, is Miss Mabel de Nordandorf, the soprano: 105 Jess Harris, the comedian, Tom Ar- 105 nold, as Jack Farnum; James Babour the sheriff, and a sprightly chorus that | 105 sing and dance, too.
