An Open Letter To The Farmers

To the Dairymen of Union, Wallowa and Baker Counties.

GREETING:—

The Valley Creamery takes this means to publicly thank you for your liberal patronage.

Less than six months ago Ward Emigh, proprietor of the Walla Walla creamery, found it necessary—on account of the great amount of cream that he was receiving from these counties—to establish a creamery plant at La Grande and we have endeavored by introducing modern methods, close application to business and by fair and honest treatment to gain the friendship and support of the people of this territory; by our success we know that you have appreciated our efforts, beginning in April with 250 lbs. of butter a week, we are now making 2500 lbs. a week and are finding a ready market for it all.

Our business is thoroughly established and we have lived down the report circulated by our competitors "that we would soon close out," our cream supply and daily sales are increasing, the families of those connected with our creamery are making La Grande their permanent homes, we do our banking here, pay out thousands of dollars to the farmers and business men from this plant and are here to stay.

We believe that the dairy industry is but in its infancy in these rich, fertile valleys and that proper encouragement to the farmer will add thousands of cows to the dairies now here. It is not our hope or desire to drive other creameries out of this neid, but rather to co-operate with them and with the farmers and business men in such a way as to increase the cream supply, that we may all stay and prosper (with the VALLEY CREAMERY in the lead). With confidence we look ahead to the time when the Valley Creamery will be the same to Eastern Oregon as the Walla Walla Creamery is to Eastern Washington.

The Walla Walla Creamery operates creameries in Walla Walla, La Grande and Ukiah and has stations for gathering cream in Dayton, Touchet, Ferndale, Halfway, Haines, North Powder, Union and Lostine.

Mr. Emigh, the proprietor of the Valley Creamery, has been in the creamery business at Walla Walla for the past 14 years and he has one of the best plants in the state. He gives the markets his own personal attention and is, at all times, in a position to pay the highest possible price for butterfat. Before we located here, your local creameries were fixing their butterfat price by the Portland market, while today the price is fixed at Walla Walla, which—owing to the fact that it is in the center of the great wheat fields and within reach of the rich mines and timber belts of northern Idaho—is the best market on the coast.

Butter has been very low in the Portland markets this summer and we believe that we, by fixing the price of butterfat and forcing others to follow, have saved to the dairymen of these counties hundreds of dollars.

Our best friends are our oldest acquaintances. The party who furnished the first pound of cream for our Walla Walla creamery is still our patron and we hope and trust that we may have the same experience in the Grande Ronde Valley. Your interests are our interests, and we know that if we are prosperous, that you must first prosper.

Our place of business is at 215 Fir Street, La Grande, Oregon. Call and see us when you are in the city.

Yours very truly,

VALLEY CREAMERY, LA GRANDE, OREGON.
