COUNTRY LIFE MEET SOON

ANNUAL CONVENTION IN CONNECTION WITH APPLE SHOW.

Will Be Educational Event for Inland Clubs and Towns.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 6.—(Special)—Broad in policy, educational in purpose and beneficial in its influence will be the annual convention of the country life commissions of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana during the week of the fourth National Apple show in Spokane Nov. 23 to 30. David Brown, chairman of the Washington commission and head of the country life committee of the Spokane chamber of commerce, also is arranging for representative delegations from California, Utah, Wyoming, N. Dakota, S. Dakota, Minnesota, British Columbia, Alberta and other states and provinces in the northwest to participate at the sessions.

Governors of the Northwest and Pacific states, members of congress and state and provincial legislatures and prominent men and women of the United States and Canada, who are interested in making the rural districts of America more attractive and are concerned in the development of a higher country life, will be invited to attend the convention, which is to occupy four or more days.

"Plans for the organization of community clubs to encourage the country life movement will be discussed," said Mr. Brown, "and preliminary arrangements made to carry on the work throughout the country, the paramount idea being to make rural life so pleasant that it will attract our young people and check the tendency of our country boys and girls leaving their homes for the cities.

"We shall also take up such subjects as good roads, better rural schools and the merchandising of the farm products. There are several other important subjects in connection with the country life plan, but nothing that will have the least bearing in a political way. The primary purpose is to bring out the best of our rural manhood and womanhood by providing better social conditions on the farm and make the life more attractive than it has been in the past."

Hold Exercises at Mt. Vernon.

Washington, Oct. 6.—One thousand delegates who have been attending the convention in this city of the National German-American alliance today made a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon, where a program of exercises was carried out and a number of beautiful floral offerings deposited at the tomb of Washington.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W.
