Chicago, Oct. 9.—Sensational and new evidence is announced here today for the Lorimer investigation which begins tomorrow. It is reported the committee has unearthed many new facts. Senators Dillingham and Jones are already here to resume the investigation.

WOMEN FACING CRUCIAL TEST

amendments have received less consideration during the past campaign, some of them are really far more important than the woman suffrage amendment. Among them is an amendment which provides for the initiative and the referendum in state legislation. Other amendments provide for the recall of the elective officers of the state; for county charters and county home rule; for eliminating technical errors as a ground for reversal in criminal cases; for direct legislation; enlargement of the powers of the railroad commission; the abolition of justice courts; for the inclusion of judges of the district court of appeals among those state officers who may be impeached; providing for a divided session of the legislature; municipal ownership and for borough organization in chartered cities. The other amendments, ten in number are of minor importance and have been almost entirely overlooked, as they were overshadowed by the much greater importance of the other questions at issue.

Explosion Kills Workmen.

New York, Oct. 9.—Four workmen were killed in a rock shaft 60 feet below the ground on the west drive near 69th street today. They were drilling when the dynamite exploded. Superintendent Marlin and Epreman Kearney were hurt, but both will be held for criminal carelessness.

A GLIMPSE OF YOURSELF.

Get it by Reading a Gossipy Letter You Wrote Years Ago.

There is nothing more interesting than to come across unexpectedly an intimate and gossipy letter that one wrote oneself ten or fifteen years ago. In reading such a letter one is looking at oneself from the outside. The process is a good deal like looking out of the window and seeing oneself go past in the crowd. The strange part of the matter is that in reading such a document one is generally filled with a sort of pity for the fellow who wrote it. He seems to have been rather uncertain of himself. He groped for his facts and his ideas. Evidently he did not know much. He was merely an imperfect adumbration of the admirable person who is now overlooking his correspondence, eh? That is the first impression. But presently one feels differently about it. Those half baked opinions may now have hardened into dogmas. We may now be cocksure of what once we only surmised. But who is so hopelessly wrong as the cocksure man? If the person one was fifteen years ago could contemplate objectively the person one is now perhaps he would pity the purblind dogmatist more than we pity the groping experimentalist. —New York Mail.

SEE THE FUNNY SIDE.

Use Your Sense of Humor When Distressing Situations Arise.

Humor proves to be the saving clause of many a distressing situation. The trouble with most of us is that we take our troubles altogether too seriously. We fail to see the funny side of things that for the moment concern us, even though we are quick to grasp it when we are mere on-lookers.

In the face of gathered clouds that seem to shut out the sunshine forever it is not a bad idea to remind ourselves that this old mother earth has been revolving on her axis for countless ages, that generations of men have come and gone for thousands of years and that the march of human progress has gone right along in the forward direction despite what seemed to be occasional setbacks.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you." There is humor in nearly every situation if we can only see it from the right angle. Those of us who try to smile in adversity and think how much more laughable it would be if conditions were reversed at least feel less uncomfortable over it and take pleasure in looking forward to the time when the shoe will be on the other foot. —Omaha Bee.

FINAL TOUCHES GIVEN TO CASE

SPAIN CASE OCCUPIES ALL OF THE DAY.

Jury Likely to Get Case Late This Evening Some Time.

Rain did not prevent a flow of brilliant oratory in the court house today when, just before the noon recess, the arguments to the jury in the Spain case were commenced. Attorneys for and against the accused, John Spain, Henry McGrath and Zibe Morse—consumed much of the afternoon and if the case goes to the jury at all today, it will be late this evening some time.

Rebuttal testimony occupied the morning session and though it was planned to be ready for the next case at noon, the closing touches to the spirited case occupied more time than anticipated.

Something to Show.

"Do you mean to tell me," demanded Mr. Sillicus angrily, "that you actually ordered $10 worth of groceries of a total stranger at prices less than any wholesale dealer can buy them and paid for them in advance?"

"Yes, that's what I said," replied his better half.

"And you hadn't sense enough to see that it was a barefaced swindler?" roared Sillicus. "Well, your money's gone now, and you have nothing to show for it."

"Why, yes, I have, John," said his wife. "I have the man's receipt for the money." —Lippincott's.

A Big Job.

"That is old Jed Wombat, our oldest inhabitant."

"Why doesn't he get his whiskers trimmed?"

"Well, he does start a dicker with the barber every winter, but they ain't never been able to reach no agreement yet." —Washington Herald.

His Cure.

"I have cured myself by learning to chew my food."

"What have you cured yourself of?"

"The belief that if I remained away from the office for more than ten minutes at lunch time everything would go to the dickens." —Chicago Record-Herald.

Forgot His "First Aid."

"But how does she know that he doesn't love her?"

"She fainted away the other evening, and he didn't kiss her before he bolted for help." —Houston Post.

As a Last Resort.

"Mother—I saw you kissing my daughter."

"Yes, but only out of desperation I couldn't think of anything to say to her." —Filegunde Blatter.

Chinese Bluejackets Interest And Are Interested In New York

Photos by American Press Association.

THE first Chinese warship that ever visited American waters has recently been anchored in the Hudson river alongside New York city. She is the Hai Chi and she differs but little in appearance and armament from any other battleship of similar size. Officers and crew are all Chinese, and they were as deeply interested in New York as New York was interested in them. One of the pictures shows a scene on the deck of the vessel, another shows the ship's band, which frequently played "The Star Spangled Banner" as a compliment to American visitors, while the other picture shows a group of Chinese-American boy scouts on a visit to the Hai Chi. Most of the officers spoke English fairly well and many of them, graduates of American colleges, spoke it fluently and with little accent. The principal officers made official visits to Washington, and Admiral Ching went to Beverly to see President Taft.

Ambassador Bryce Lays Cornerstone.

Hingham, Mass., Oct. 9.—Ambassador Bryce today made the presentation of the old "Mounting Stone," which Old Hingham, in England, has sent as a gift to this town. The mounting stone, or horse block, stood in the village square of Old Hingham for at least 700 years. Today it was laid as the cornerstone of the bell tower to be built here as a memorial to the first settlers of Hingham.

School Buys Typewriters.

To further perfect the equipment in the commercial department of the high school an order was given Saturday for some new Remington typewriters of latest model. This will add to the completeness of the equipment and Superintendent Stout is putting a great deal of attention on the commercial course this year, when, everything considered, makes La Grande's commercial department a first class institution of the kind.

Fans Cannot See Games.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—Sixty thousand dollars worth of fans are kicking here today because their money was refunded and they are not given a chance of seeing the world's series.
